ALASKA'S DEATH
TOLL FIGURED
AT FORTY-NINE

Charges Made By Passengers
To Be Sifted In Federal Investigation.

Simply finding that the dead came to their deaths through drowning. This was in view of the conflicting testimony adduced. Passengers charged: 1. That the night was not foggy—only misty. 2. That the crew appeared to lack all experience in lifeboat handling. 3. That immediately after the boat struck the passengers were not ordered to prepare for the boats, thus losing valuable time. 4. That Captain Hobey and the first mate were not on the bridge when the ship struck. This was largely contradicted by the testimony of members of the crew. The jury apparently believed that it would be best for federal authorities to conduct the probe and place the blame.

Wireless Man Died
Calling Aid, Belief

SEATTLE, Aug. 9.—Indications are that H. G. Perry, radio operator of San Francisco, went down with Captain Hobey on the steamer Alaska when she struck Blunt's Reef Saturday night, according to O. C. Redfern, United States radio inspector here. Inspector Redfern said the operator apparently had stuck to his post to the last, sending out messages as the ship settled into the ocean. Since, he added, he had been unable to obtain any tidings of him.

Steamer Hits Rock
But Escapes Harm

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 9.—The Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Maquinna struck a rock in a dense fog at Bold Bluff, Quastino sound, B. C., Saturday morning, but suffered no serious damage. It was reported on the vessel's arrival here. Captain Tom Cliff said the ship took no water and was not in danger at any time. She is under repairs.

Ten to 15 million golf sticks are now in use.

SURVIVORS GIVE
VIEWS ON WRECK
ON STR. ALASKA

One Says Most of Loss of Life
Due To Inability To Launch Lifeboats.

Various views of the wreck and its attendant circumstances were given today by survivors of the disaster. Among these were the following: RICHARD DAVIS, 1314 Hampel street—"I was seated on the railing of the promenade deck in company with nine or ten men and women when the ship went down. We heard the crash and hurried to get to the lifeboats on the upper deck, but did not know what had happened, and so did nothing. "Several of the group I was with were singing 'Let the Rest of the World Go By.' When the ship went down I slipped from the rail over into the water. The others went down with the water, and I believe they were all drowned. "I swam about in the water for a long time before I found a piece of wreckage, which kept me afloat. Altogether I was in the water for some time. I heard the moans and screams of many other persons in the water, but was unable to help them."

MRS. OSCAR SELLERS, 719 Fifty-fourth street—"I was in one of the lifeboats that capsized, and after being thrown in the water, drifted about for more than an hour before I was picked up. "The life-belt was the only thing that saved my life, for I cannot swim a stroke."

JOHN R. CLARK, Escalon—"I believe most of the loss of life was due to the inability of the crew to launch the port side lifeboats. I saw the forward falls of one of the boats let go and this tossed its occupants into the ocean, and the boat was left hanging in the air above the sea. The second boat did not reach the water, but was banging against the side of the steamer. I saw several of the boat's passengers get crushed between the lifeboat and the ship."

CRAIG CUNNINGHAM, superintendent of schools, Madera county—"When I was sitting on the upper deck when the ship struck, just before going down. I put on a life-belt and sat on the rail. As the boat went down I waited for the railing to hit the water and then jumped out and swam away. "A little later I heard a terrific explosion, and while swimming about I found a heavy table, to which I clung to rest from the effort of swimming. I heard the cries of several men near by and shouted to them to come to my table. "I remember when one of them swam to the table and did not have energy enough to reach. He slipped and went down and I did not see him again. "We were picked up at 4:30 in the morning and it was 11:30 o'clock Sunday before I regained consciousness."

EMIL VODJANSKY, former world's champion back stroke swimmer—"We did not have a fire drill on the Alaska on this trip, but had one just before we reached Portland on the last cruise north. We had a green deck crew and they were not familiar with their stations. I have nothing but praise for the captain of the Anyox and his officers and men. "I was in the officers' messroom, having engaged to work my way to San Francisco, when the crash came. I ran to the deck and immediately started putting men, women and children passengers in a life-boat on the starboard side. "A man I recognized as a steward slipped overboard at this time, and I went after him, but he must have sunk and drowned, for I could not find him anywhere. I was in the water for an hour and a half before I was picked up by a life-boat from the Anyox. "I was formerly an instructor in Red Cross work, so when I got aboard the Anyox I immediately gave a hand with the first aid work. In the engine-room I found half a dozen women and children, unconscious and dying. With the aid of several engine-room men we gave them first aid, draining the water from their lungs and bringing them around so that they were soon in good shape. "One small charge I gave first aid was a baby but two or three weeks old. I don't know whether they found her mother or not. I helped bring the baby around and then turned it over to the women passengers on the Anyox."

Student Thought to Be Among Missing

Efforts are being made by Eastbay friends of George Edwards, 730 Weilder street, Portland, Ore., to ascertain whether he is the missing passenger of the Alaska. Edwards, the son of Mrs. Dwight Edwards of Portland, and a nephew of George Colman of Montello, Santa Barbara county, was coming to the University of California for the 1921-22 semester. He is a graduate of the Harvard Military college of Los Angeles, and planned to enter one of the colleges of letters and sciences. He is a popular member of the Edwin Eden club, a writing and dramatic organization. The youth is about 20 years old.

Men Heroic; Crew
Futile, Woman Says

EUREKA, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Thomas Johnston of Brooklyn, N. Y., whose husband was drowned, declared the heroism of men passengers was "sublime but members of the crew were disorganized although willing to do everything possible. "I refused to leave my husband," said Mrs. Johnston, "but he put me into a lifeboat after telling me he would jump overboard later. That's the last I saw of him. "Mr. and Mrs. Owen Tevin of Minneapolis, Minn., were united in a local hospital. Mrs. Tevin believed her husband had drowned after putting her into a lifeboat. Tevin said he floated on a mattress on which there were five other passengers. "Three of them went insane and a man and woman died while we were on the mattress. A lifeboat picked us up."

that there had been no new developments, only to read in the morning and afternoon papers new leads and clues of which he knew nothing. Twenty thousand circulars, containing Father Heslin's picture and a general description, with the facts regarding his disappearance, were ordered today by Chief O'Brien. They will be spread broadcast throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. They are being prepared by Detective-Sergeant Adolph Juel of the bureau of identification.

Alaska Speeding in Fog, Officer Admits

EUREKA, Aug. 9.—First admission by an officer that the steamer Alaska was proceeding under full speed despite the heavy fog when she crushed on Blunt's reef Saturday night is made by S. A. Carlson, third assistant engineer. Carlson said he was on duty when the ship struck.

The eighteen body, that of a man yet unidentified, from "the wreck" was found under the light house at Cape Mendocino. An inquest over the body of Charles Heane, chief steward, was held late yesterday. The jury found Heane came to his death "through drowning as a result of the wreck of the steamer Alaska." The findings of the jury, it was said, would apply to all the dead.

George Goodall, a passenger of Spokane, in his testimony before the coroner's jury was particularly severe in criticism of the Alaska's crew. Goodall said members of the crew made "effort to get the passengers off the ship, but they became demoralized when it came to handling the lifeboats. He declared the lifeboats were not in proper condition.

Other testimony was given by E. C. Morgan, purser; W. B. McCulloch, first officer; J. S. Michaelson, radio operator, and Mrs. Mabel Lunberg of St. Paul, Minn., and William Bass of Oakland. Michaelson said he was on duty but because of his activity did not note how rapidly the ship was traveling when she struck. The inquest developed the theory Captain Harry Hobey had died on his bridge. It was said he had been crushed when the smoke stacks collapsed or died following collapse of the deck.

Fishing boats cruised throughout the delta from Bureka to the reef searching for bodies. On shore other persons ranged the forty miles of beach on the same quest.

Man Vainly Tries to Save Baby Namesake

EUREKA, Cal., Aug. 9.—An outstanding tragedy of the wreck, which came to light today, was the frantic but futile effort of Lew White of Seattle to save the baby boy of Mrs. Charlotte White of Portland. The Whites are not related. Seeing Mrs. White struggling to put her boy in a lifeboat, White seized the infant and himself made the attempt. The boat slipped from one davit but held fast to the other, and White and many others were plunged into the sea, a mass of drifting wreckage tearing the baby from him as he went down. Both mother and baby were lost. Three girl companions, Miss Dorothy Anderson and Miss Martha Knutson of Waseca, Minn., and Miss Helen Carlin of Portland, clung together and murmured prayers as the waters crept up on the port deck. Nearby were Mrs. J. W. Oliver of San Jose and some companions. The waters suddenly swirled about the praying girls. They called to Mrs. Oliver, but she did not answer. The girls were saved. Mrs. Oliver was lost.

Tuolumne Teacher
Rescued in Wreck

TUOLUMNE, Aug. 9.—Miss Clara J. Beckwith, high school teacher of this place, was among the passengers rescued when the steamer Alaska sank Saturday night in northern waters. Until her name appeared among the survivors her friends passed many anxious hours. Miss Beckwith sailed on a sightseeing trip, bound for Alaska. Perseverance is unsurpassed in strength, hardness and weight for golf clubs.

Heroic Acts of Passengers
Save Lives on Alaska

EUREKA, Aug. 9.—Acts of heroism and self-sacrifice that rank with those immortalized by the Titanic and Lusitania disasters marked the sinking of the steamer Alaska off Cape Mendocino, 40 miles south of here, Saturday night. Paternal and filial love conquered fear of death. Parents gave their lives to save those of their children; brother drowned that sisters might not be cut off in the flower of young womanhood; husbands placed wives in boats, kissed them good-by and stepped overboard into the oil-blackened waters. Among those who went down, many died like soldiers, meeting the great, adventure with a smile on their lips. Many of those who survived braved death in order to assist a weaker fellow man to safety. GALLANTRY SHOWN. "Women and children first" was their motto. Men removed their coats to wrap them about the shoulders of thinly clad, shivering women. One boy, Nathan Bass, 18, 1005 Golden Gate avenue, San Francisco, gave his shirt, and undershirt to warm the chilled body of three-months-old James Lange, son of William J. Lange of Lange & Bothwick, printers, 761 Sansome street. Mrs. Lange had reached the boat in which Bass, in the absence of an officer, had assumed command, and passed the infant to him. As the boy was assisting her into the boat some madman slashed the ropes. A piteous cry was heard as mother and babe were separated when the boat struck the water. They did not meet again until both were rescued by the crew of the Anyox. WOMEN ARE HEROIC. Every woman was a heroine. Those who had left husbands behind comforted those who had become separated from parents, from sister or brother. They put aside their own grief to comfort others whose plight seemed worse than theirs. Passengers shifted for themselves and for each other. The nearest approach to panic, when a huddled mass was crowding toward the boats, was checked when two soprano voices arose above the shouts and screams on the boat deck. These two heroines were not singing "Lead, Kindly Light," or "Nearer My God to Thee." They were singing "Home-sick Blues," pure, unadulterated American jazz. Passengers crowding to the boats stopped to listen. Pandemonium ceased and the age-old cry again arose: "Women and children first."

Rescued Girl Is Sent to Her Home

EUREKA, Cal., Aug. 9.—Little Betty Jane Saunders, who drifted all night swathed in a blanket and a life preserver and was rescued by little less than a miracle, left for her parents' home in Los Angeles in the Ernest White home in Madera. Cunningham was formerly county superintendent of schools of Madera county. The two were returning from a business trip to Portland. She is still ignorant of the fact that her grandmother is among the missing. Dyer and their twin children, Duane and Elaine, aged 6, are listed among the missing. Dyer, the son of W. H. Dyer, 716 Eighteenth street, Oakland, is struggling to bear up under his pain, physical and mental. Ignorance of the fate of his wife and two children, he believes them to be in one of the other hospitals. TO RENEW THE APETITE.—Take Hor-ford's Acid Phosphate. ## NEWLYWEDS TELL OF STRUGGLE FOR LIFE FROM WRECK

Only 15 of 90 Members of Crew Had Certificates, Is Claim of Husband.

BERKELEY, Aug. 9.—A shipwreck can't mar the honeymoon happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Montell H. Springstead, survivors of the ill-fated Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. Springstead have an outfit of clothing given them by the Red Cross in Eureka. Mrs. Springstead's trousseau, her wedding gifts and all of the couple's belongings are at the bottom of the ocean.

"But we don't care," smiles the young couple in unison, "for we have ourselves and that's worth more than anything in the world."

For seven hours Mrs. Springstead paced the docks at Eureka waiting for news of her husband who had left behind on the sinking ship. When finally he was brought ashore half-unconscious, his arm and eyes injured.

"I left on the last boat to be lowered from the ship," relates Mrs. Springstead, who below her marriage last Tuesday was Miss Irma Hiebock of Portland, a student at the University of California. At a local apartment house the honeymooners told of their escape from death.

"I remained with my husband as long as I could," says the young bride. "They finally put me into a lifeboat and I was forced to leave my husband behind. I was in the last boat to leave, but in the first to be picked up. I was the first survivor taken aboard the Ancon. The seven hours I spent waiting for my husband I will never forget and when I finally saw him it didn't matter that we had lost everything in the world that we owned."

Springstead's experiences were more thrilling. For six hours he drifted, most of the time clinging to a door from the sinking vessel with another male survivor. "Finally we sighted a raft on which another man was drifting and we joined forces in trying to row to safety," he says. "The other two men gave up hope. We're gone! they said after we had drifted what seemed centuries. But somehow I clung to hope, and we finally saw lights."

"We were numb from cold and exhaustion. It seemed at times that we couldn't hold on another second, but something in our sub-consciousness told us that to weaken meant death and we clung. One of the men had a wife and two kids in Long Beach. He was returning to them after an absence of several months on a business trip. He never expected to see them again."

"The oil from the sinking ship proved a savior for us. It calmed the water and after soaking through our clothes helped to keep us warm. But for that I doubt if we could have lasted."

Springstead tells of leaving at least five women behind on the Alaska when he jumped into the sea. "There were no lifeboats for them," he said. "Inexperience on the part of the majority of the crew, he declares, probably caused most of the fatalities."

"But 15 of the 90 members of the crew had lifeboat certificates," says

Springstead. "There was no order in loading the passengers into lifeboats. Many of the boats that went out held more men than women. I can still see these five women standing on the rear end of the vessel as I went overboard. They were undoubtedly lost, for there was no way to save them. All of the lifeboats had gone. I had scarcely gotten a few feet away from the Alaska when she went down. We drifted in the darkness, expecting every minute to be our last."

Praise of the Red Cross aid given in Eureka were voiced by both Springsteads. "They were wonderful to us," says the young couple.

Ms. Springstead was a member of the junior class at the university. This is Springstead's second real shipwreck. He was a passenger on the ill-fated Santa Rosa, which was downed off Point Arguello in 1911.

Springstead was a former student at the university and also at Pomona college.

BABE DROPPED IN ARMS OF WOMAN BY CRAZED FATHER

Waif Is Carried in Life Boat and Later Restored To Frantic Mother.

BERKELEY, Aug. 9.—How she found a baby girl thrust into her arms by a frenzied father about to jump overboard and protected it from death, is told by Mrs. J. E. Nichols, 2241 Glen avenue, who with her daughter, Margaret, 16-year-old high school student, were saved from the wreck of the Alaska. "As we were being lowered into a lifeboat a man dropped a baby into my lap," says Mrs. Nichols. "Please take care of her," he said. We drifted until 2 o'clock in the morning when the Ancon picked us up. I still had the baby and we took all possible care of her. As we went aboard the Ancon a woman rushed forward and grabbed the baby. It was her mother. She had been frantic with fear that her child was drowned."

Miss Nichols was thrown from her berth by the crash of the steamer. Her mother was in the social hall. That the trip on the Alaska was planned at the last minute is the statement of Mrs. Nichols, who with her daughter and son, Charles, also a high school student, were visiting in Washington. The entire family had planned to return by automobile, but the son was delayed in making the trip and the mother and daughter returned on the steamer. The son is expected today.

BRADSHAW PLEADS GUILTY; ASKS FOR MERCY OF COURT

Youthful Defaulting Teller Makes Plea For Probation; Case Is Referred.

MARTINEZ, Aug. 9.—Lester J. Bradshaw, 21-year-old self-confessed forger, appeared before Superior Judge R. H. Lattimer yesterday afternoon, withdrew a plea of not guilty to a grand jury indictment on which he was returned from Australia, pleaded guilty and made application for probation. The probation plea was referred to Probation Officer A. J. McMahon, who was instructed to report August 22.

Bradshaw was represented by Attorneys E. B. Taylor, A. S. Ormsby and Will S. Robinson, with District Attorney A. B. Tuning appeared for the state. Taylor informed the court of Bradshaw's desire to change his plea. Addressing Bradshaw, the court declared that in making a plea of guilty he could not entertain the view that probation is to be his lot.

Bradshaw was plainly concerned in the court room for the first time since his return from Australia. It seemed as though he did not really realize the significance of the crime he has confessed until his appearance in court.

Oakland School Boy Believed Among Lost

Definite word that her son, William Forsheal, Oakland school boy, was on board the steamer Alaska when it went down has been received by Mrs. M. Forsheal, in the form of a letter from her son dated in Portland the day the ship left that port. Young Forsheal, who was 15 years old, and employed as a bell-boy on the Alaska, wrote that he would be in Oakland within a week to see his mother. It was his first voyage at sea, and his first venture away from home. On vacation from school, he begged his mother and older brothers to let him take a position on board some ship, and his first voyage was on the Alaska.

The failure of the company to publish Forsheal's name among those missing or rescued caused the mother to believe yesterday that her son might have signed on some other ship after leaving home. This hope was shattered, however, when she received the letter which was proof that her son was on board when the ship went down. Finding in recent days that his mother had given him up as dead. With the discovery that others are missing whose names do not appear in the missing list, the mother has cause to believe that her son too is among them.

Forsheal came to Oakland several years ago with his mother and brothers, Robert and James Forsheal, from Minneapolis, and has attended school here since.

"This is the first time I've ever been on a witness stand," said the sweet young thing with an apologetic smile after the attorney for the plaintiff had vainly endeavored to impress the woman with the necessity of confining her answers to the questions addressed her. "You certainly show it," broke in Superior Judge Samuel.

A large Persian cat in the arms of a fashionably dressed woman created a sensation at a Broadway moving picture theatre last night. The woman told the indignant usher that she was a believer in reincarnation—the cat was the reincarnation of her dead husband, who was very fond of the "movers."

An Oakland school boy has invented a new musical instrument called "feinola." Although he is unwilling to divulge the complete mechanics of the contrivance, he admits that his melodies are produced by exerting intermittent pressure on the causal appendages of divers cuts, held secure in position within this revival of the old-time music-box.

"Barred windows and stone walls do not a prison make," at least that's what Leo Ricco, late of San Quentin, thinks. Leo was given his freedom and after two weeks' residence in the wardens' yard, he was sent back to prison again. He was "in" eight years.

The man who packed his machine in front of the Central Police station in Oakland just to save money in buying tire locks, etc., reckoned not with the ingenuity of the modern years. He lost his machine and an overcoat. Now he parks his machine in a lonely spot with four tire locks, for safety's sake.

Mrs. Onilla Grimes Lost Life in Wreck

Confirmation of the belief of A. M. Anderson, a dental student at the University of California, that he had seen Mrs. Onilla Grimes, 943 Fifth street, crushed to death by a third-story lifeboat and the side of the steamer Alaska, when she sank, was received in Oakland today when word came from William J. Grimes, who had identified the body of his wife in the Eureka morgue, where it had been unidentified.

Mrs. Grimes' name did not appear on the list of dead, rescued or missing. A report of the dead showed an unidentified woman about 33 years old.

Upon arrival in Eureka this morning Grimes went to the morgue, where he found his wife's body. When picked up on the beach the body was nude.

Anderson, who was working his passage to San Francisco as a waiter, declared that he saw Mrs. Grimes in her nightclothes caught between the side of the ship and the lifeboat and go into the sea. S. N. Well, medical student at the University of Oregon, was with me when we worked on the lifeboats, and he told me that he saw Mrs. Grimes fall and get caught in the lines of the lifeboat falls."

Mrs. Grimes was en route from Sheridan, Ore., to her home in Oakland after visiting her mother in the northern city, Mrs. F. P. Stahlmecker.

BOARD WILL GET PLAN FOR UNION

The city and county consolidation proposal will be presented formally to the Board of Supervisors at its regular meeting on Monday. At that time action will be taken toward setting the date for the election on the new charter and the consolidation plan. The charter, as drawn up by the Board of Freeholders and changed in a number of particulars, has been filed with the county clerk.

Before the election may be called another copy of the charter must be filed with the county recorder and certified copies with the clerks of each Alameda community. Following this, the freeholders say, they will continue to work to acquaint the voters with the provisions of the charter, the outstanding feature of which is the naming of a county manager who will have almost complete charge of the city-county government and authority to employ and discharge minor officials and subordinates. Seven committees and a borough system is provided for, and a mayor who shall be elected by the councilmen from their number.

ALIMONY CUT IN DULL SEASON IS ASKED BY COURT

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—Summer reductions in alimony may follow the customary decrease in mercantile lines during the dull season, if Judge Myers, heads the appeal of Judge A. Anderson, well-known musician, who says that his business has fallen off materially during the summer months and that he is unable to pay his wife, Mrs. Joy Anderson, the $50 a month alimony awarded pending a trial of her suit for separate maintenance.

Anderson had been giving his wife $125 a month, the wife told the court, but had declared that if that proved unsatisfactory she would take the matter to court.

When called as a witness by his wife's attorney Anderson said that his work as a teacher of the piano fell off during the summer months and that his income did not warrant the payment of the large sum the plaintiff asked dependent. Mrs. Anderson's allegation that his income was greatly in excess of the figure given the court.

The Andersons were married in August, 1920, and separated last February, it was stated.

A capacity of 400,000,000 cubic meters will serve to supply the station with power.

SENATE PASSES ANTI-BEER BILL BY 39 TO 20 VOTE

Final Enactment of Measure Is Expected Before Week
Ends.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The Willis Campbell anti-beer bill was passed by the Senate late yesterday, 39 to 20, and sent to conference with the House, with the prospect of its final enactment before the week ends.

Upon being informed of the action, treasury officials said that the beer regulations which have been drafted and are ready for Secretary Mellon's signature, would not be issued pending action by the Senate and House conferences. The regulations would provide for use of medical beer under the ruling of former Attorney-General Palmer, a ruling which the bill is designed to overcome.

The ban against the prescribing of beer by physicians, and limitations of prescriptions of wine and whiskey contained in the bill as passed by the House, were virtually unchanged by the Senate, but a few important amendments were added. These included a provision to restrict operations of prohibition enforcement officers by prohibiting searches, or any attempts at searching, of private property or premises without search warrants.

A violation of this clause would be a misdemeanor subject to fine of $1000 and one year's imprisonment.
Penalties of five years' imprisonment and $1000 fines were provided for persons attempting searches while posing as prohibition agents.

The search and seizure amendment was offered by Senator Stanley Democrat, Kentucky, as a substitute for an amendment by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, proposing more drastic penalties. It was adopted without a roll call.

Silk Shirt, Fancy Tie Doomed, Dealers Say
CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—The fancy silk shirt, sporty socks, loud, expensive cravat are doomed to give way to cotton, linen and plain knitted goods, because men are slashing their clothing bills, haberdashers told the board of review when questioned about their personal property taxes.

"Most of the dealers say that the value of their stocks is decreasing because the public is demanding a cheaper grade of goods," said a member of the board. "Instead of silk shirts, the public is buying cotton ones; plain socks are sought in preference to fancy ones."

"One haberdashery reported a shrinkage of stock from $25,000 to $10,000 in less than a year."

TURKS CHARGED WITH OUTRAGES IN GREEK WAR

Appeal Made to U. S. to Save
People On Shores of Black Sea.

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Charging that the Turks evidently have a deliberate plan of exterminating the entire Greek population on the shores of the Black Sea, the Pan-Epirotic
Union of America with headquarters here has just made public a cable message from Dr. Thodis, president of the League of the Greeks of Pontus, in which he makes, "in the name of justice and the most sacred rights of man, a last appeal to the humanitarian sentiments of the United States."

The message, dated Constantinople, July 24, reads:
"The innocent and defenseless, the thefts, violations, arbitrary confiscations of property, all sorts of malefactions unheard of before, are in the daily program since the armistice in the Hittite of the Pontus and in the interior of Asia Minor."

"Recent news just received from the Pontus described with the blackest colors the desperate condition of the Greek population. The male Greek population from 12 to 60 years of age of all the cities of the Pontus, Iteboul, Samoun, Kerasound, Ordou, Tripoli, as far as Trebizond has been deported to the interior."

"The largest part of this population has been massacred on the way by the Turks and those who could survive have arrived by way of Sivas as far as Alabastan in Kurdistan. The fate of the Christian villages of the interior is ignored. The village of Ada and its surrounding country, containing a Greek population of nearly 3500 persons, has been burned down and their inhabitants massacred by the Turks who turned these villages into ashes after having plundered the villages and villages around Samoun were pillaged and burned down some time ago."

"Yesterday the commander of the American torpedo boat 332, V. S.
Houston, brought the news that on the 18th of July the Turks compelled the women, the girls and the children who were abandoned by their relatives now in exile to vacate their houses and also to be ready to start for an exile. Fifteen thousand of these unfortunate beings from Samoun, 6000 from Kerasound and 14,
000 from Ordou, Tripoli, etc., etc., are in danger of being annihilated,
if they are not already."

"In the name of justice and of the most sacred rights of man, we make a last appeal to the humanitarian sentiments of the people of the United States and we ask the government of the United States to take immediately such measures which shall be judged convenient to put an end to this condition of things which constitutes a shame in the full light of the twentieth century."

Suspected Forger Faces New Charge

Arrested by Capitol detectives on a charge of posing as Jay Nash, head of the recreation department, and cashing a $15 check in the name of Nash, H. A. Gerling, of 2307 Seminary avenue, is said by the police to be in danger of a second forgery charge. It is alleged that Gerling signed the name of T. J. Miller to a check recently passed on another department store, drawn on a bank where Miller had no account. The police are bringing witnesses to confront Gerling on the second charge.

Train Thief Gets $100,000 in Diamonds

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Police here today were checking a report of the theft of $100,000 in diamonds from Max Levy, a local jeweler, aboard the Twentieth Century Limited yesterday. Levy reported on his arrival here that the gems had been stolen from him while he was on the train en route to Chicago. The diamonds, Levy said, were taken from beneath the pillow in his berth.

PASSENGERS IN DEATH AIRPLANE WANTED STUNTS

No Responsibility Fixed For Disaster At Healdsburg
Yesterday.

HEALDSBURG, Aug. 8.—A coroner's inquest was held last night over the bodies of the three men who were killed in an airplane accident in this city yesterday afternoon. The victims were:

Alden Eldridge, 28, former army aviator, Berkeley.

Bert Fairbanks, 40, contractor, Willets, Mendocino county.

Kenneth Hudson, 26, druggist, Healdsburg.

The jury returned a verdict to the effect that the three died of burns as a result of the crash, but placed no responsibility. Testimony was introduced showing that the passengers had agreed that there should be stunts.

The plane was circling the town at a height of about 500 feet, witnesses estimated, when it went into a sideslip and dropped to the elevation of about 300 feet. The engine stalled missing fire, then went dead.

The pilot attempted a long glide back to the landing field, skimming low over the tops of houses as he went. He was flying at an altitude of less than 50 feet when the plane suddenly nosed downward. There was a loud crashing sound as it plunged into the orchard.

The wreckage ignited immediately, and before people could reach the scene the pilot and the passengers had burned to a crisp.

Eldridge, who was well known in aviation circles around the bay as "Spike" Eldridge, had brought the machine to Healdsburg to engage in commercial flying.

Fairbanks and Hudson were both married men, while Hudson was single. Eldridge leaves a wife and child, while Fairbanks had a wife and step-child.

A pitchfork with removable tines which can be replaced if broken has been patented by a Canadian inventor.

Egg Day Bride and Groom Revealed as Petalumans

PETALUMA, Aug. 8.—The prospective Egg Day bride and groom crawled out of their shells today and announced their names to the curious public. They are Murray Gow and Miss Lena Speich, both residents of Petaluma. Murray is employed at the Vonsen Company's feed supply concern, and Miss Speich is a stenographer with the firm of Nye & Nissou, dealers in poultry produce.

A new auto stage line will be put in operation this week, plying between Petaluma and Sonoma and the resorts in Sonoma valley. The route will be across Sonoma mountain, past the old adobe, one of the historic landmarks of this section. This innovation will link Petaluma closer to the Valley of the Moon, though separated by the high hills of the Sonoma range.

The Petaluma-Two Rock highway, in course of construction for several months, is at last completed as far as the Moss-Mordeca ranch, and was thrown open to the public Saturday.

To the residents of that section and the traveling public to and from the coast region the completion of this stretch of roadway is a great boon.

Sam Sebastian of Sonoma recently returned from the East, filled with ideas and plans for the improvement of his native town. His first move was to close a deal with the Laurence family for the purchase of the old Sonoma House property, on the north side of the plaza, where he will erect a modern fire-proof hotel and several store buildings on the property.

The members of the Afghan Association of America met Saturday night at the ranch of F. Dim, in Liberty district, near this city. General Secretary Shah of Sacramento presided at the meeting. Shah is a former resident of Petaluma, having graduated from the local high school and later attended Stanford University. The headquarters of the association are at Sacramento, its object being the welfare of Afghans in this country.

In addition to discussing peace matters the Sinn Fein legislators conferred over conditions in the prisons and internment camps with De Valera and Michael Collins, commander-in-chief of the Irish republican army.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—An Irish peace agreement lay solely with Sinn Fein and Ulster today.

Great Britain removed all doubt of her intention to give the Irish every opportunity to act on her peace proposals when she released all Sinn Fein members who have been in jail. There was obvious relief in British newspapers today over the prompt action of the government in ordering the release of John J. MacKeown, convicted member of the Irish parliament, whose detention threatened to upset all the negotiations.

Dublin correspondents of those papers declared that the Dail Eireann on August 16 will follow the Sinn Fein cabinet in approving the proposals.

Ulster's part in the settlement remained unchanged today. There was no indication that "President" De Valera and Premier Craig of Ulster have met and agreed and still in spite of this lack of agreement Sinn Fein was proceeding with peace plans.

Loser of Paper Money Is Seeking Means of Relief

A TRIBUNE reader, who lost an envelope containing paper money, has written a letter to the Information Bureau in an effort to trace the lost money. The letter follows.

"Will you please answer the following question in the earliest possible edition of your paper? If you had lost an envelope containing some greenbacks when you were in the P. O. in the Bacon Building, what would you do to try to recover them? There was no name on the envelope. The loss is quite a hardship. I telephoned the clerks there as soon as I knew of my loss and they looked about but it was gone. Is there anything I can do except to hope that the one who found it will return it to the P. O. officials? The loss occurred Friday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock."

As the writer of the above letter did not sign any name other than "A Loser," it is not possible for The TRIBUNE Information Editor to write a personal letter advising as to the best way of locating the missing money. About the only thing to do under the circumstances is to notify the police. An advertisement in the classified department of local papers might prove effective.

Here is another query that just came in.

"What is the approximate number of miles of paved highway in this state?"

According to 1920 figures there are 5806 miles of paved county and state highways in California.

The dollar of December, 1914, now has a purchasing power of about 55 cents when spent on cost of living. In June a year ago it was worth about 46 cents.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS TALK ON SERVICE NEEDS

Georgia Attorney Makes Plea For Men Who Will Work For Nation.

Declaring that men are products of a divine creator and that real men recognize their dependence upon their creator, William G. McRae, a young attorney from Atlanta, Ga., addressed the Kiwanis Club at their luncheon-meeting at the Hotel Oakland yesterday on the subject, "Real Men and His Relation to America."

The speaker urged the necessity of teachers who will teach foreigners the laws of this country. The United States, McRae declared, is now going through a period of reconstruction which will determine the future of our country and race. He declared that the call is now for real men—not men who "pass the buck," but men who are ready to serve others rather than themselves.

McRae who enlisted in the navy at the age of 17 and served during the war, made a protest against the playing of German opera in this country. At yesterday's meeting it was announced that Abe Leach had been appointed as member of one of the international committees of the Kiwanis Club calling for two appropriations for advertising Alameda county was passed around and signed by the members. In the resolution Oakland's quota is set at $10,000 and county quota is set at $25,000. It was also announced that there will be a combined meeting on the free port project next week in the Hotel Oakland, of which gathering the Kiwanis Club will have charge. The meeting concluded with seventeen minutes of singing in which all the members took part.

Sacramento Wants New Federal Court
While the question of a new federal court for Northern California has been given no more definite furtherance than a favorable report by the senate committee, rivalry between cities that would like to house the court and between men who would sit on its bench is already in evidence. Telegrams sent by the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce to Congressman Charles F. Curry urge him to act for that city before it is too late and point out that unless Sacramento guards its interests San Francisco will be given the plum. The San Francisco position is that a very small percentage of the cases that clog the United States courts originate north of the Sacramento line and that San Francisco, of the bay community, is the logical center.

As the court has not been created it is natural that no man has announced himself as an avowed candidate for a place on its bench. Among those who are said to be working for the judgeship or for whom friends are exerting efforts are Judge C. Hart of Sacramento, John S. Partridge of San Francisco, J. H. Elliston of Tehama, Samuel Knight of San Francisco, Thomas F. Greaney of San Francisco, and Supreme Court Judge Thomas F. Lennon.

Two Eligible For Accident Awards
Two Oaklanders today are eligible to receive awards under the provision of the industrial accident statutes, according to rulings of the Industrial Accident Commission yesterday. They are J. H. Cox of 330 Forty-ninth avenue, who was awarded $1,958 for injuries sustained in an accident in which he was caught between two cars while coupling them when in the employ of the Coos Bay Lumber Company last September, and Gus Holtz, who suffered an injured knee while working near Belden for the Great Western Power Company. He will receive $200.

BODY IN SEATTLE BAY IDENTIFIED; HUSBAND IN JAIL

Remains of Wealthy Woman. Missing Since April 15, Found in Trunk.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 9.—It was definitely established today that the body found in the trunk in Lake Union yesterday was that of Mrs. Kate Mahoney, 67 years old and reported to have owned property worth $200,000. She has been missing since about April 15.

Following the finding of the body which the authorities believe is the first step in the solution of evidence which they have woven around James E. Mahoney, her husband who is charged with her murder, Mahoney was closeted with detectives today in a star chamber session.

They hope to be able to break down the prisoner and wring from him a complete confession they announced.

Professor William H. Dunn, chemist at the University of Washington is making an analysis of the contents of Mrs. Mahoney's stomach to determine whether or not authorities believe she was doped with chloral before being beaten to death with a hammer and stuffed into the murder trunk which was later sunk to the bottom of the lake.

The finding of the body in the trunk follows a persistent search that has led over weeks. The authorities while charging Mahoney with the crime were unwilling to take the case to trial because of the fact that the corpse defied the fact that a murder had been committed—had not been proved by actual evidence of the identified body.

Madalynne Obenchain Silent on Burch; Poems Bare Moods of Broker's 'Fiancee'

AUTO RENTED TO SUSPECT TRACED BY AUTHORITIES

Madalynne Obenchain Unstung; Mother Charges Persecution By Officers.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—New evidence continued to come to light almost hourly in the Kennedy murder case here today, the total piling up with astounding rapidity on the part of the formal inquest by the coroner's jury.

A car alleged to have been rented by Arthur C. Burch, brother of the Beverly Glen murder was discovered during the night. Linn Keith, who rented the car, positively identified Burch as the man who had secured the machine.

Detectives declared that the peculiar tire tread on the machine compared with the tracks found on the road at Beverly Glen in the early dawn Saturday, near where Kennedy had been shot to death.

"I rented the machine to this man, who gave his name as Jones, at 7 o'clock Friday night," Keith said today. He returned it at 11:10 p.m.

Burch retained his remarkable nerve and good spirits today, Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, who figures as "the woman in the case," was almost completely unstrung, however, and was threatened with total collapse.

She was said to have fainted yesterday behind the locked doors of the district attorney's office, when confronted with Burch, allegedly one of her former "lovers" of Northwestern University days.

Police in their possession today a document purported to be a diary of Madalynne Obenchain. Entries for a week prior to the murder contained many references to John Belton Kennedy, whom Madalynne admitted was "her great love."

An entry in the alleged diary dated three days before the murder, however, carries a brief comment, allegedly by Madalynne, to the effect that an ending of her affair with Kennedy would probably be for the best.

Mrs. Obenchain was given the "third degree" in an effort to bring from her a confession of complicity in the murder of Kennedy, the young woman's mother declared today.

"My daughter is being persecuted, an effort to obtain a 'confession'," she said.

"You'd better talk fast, young man," they told her. "You know what I did to Mrs. Peete. We held her nose in front of her eyes."

MRS. J. B. KENNEDY declared to a letter to Kennedy, declared to in Madalynne Obenchain's handwriting and signed "Mrs. J. Belton Kennedy" was made public by District Attorney Woolwine today.

The letter was undated, but apparently written in Evanston, Ill. The text indicated the writer and recipient had quarreled, but were reconciled.

Search for a shotgun with which investigators declare Kennedy was killed, continued today. Further questioning of Arthur C. Burch, said on a charge of suspicion of murder, was planned by the district attorney's office.

Extracts from the letter, signed Mrs. J. Belton Kennedy, follow: "How much unnecessary trouble could have been avoided if I had understood you and you had understood me. My Belton, why do you always do the things others prophesy you will do and never do the things others fall in with you doing?"

"I HAVE MISSED YOU." "You will probably never know how I have missed you and longed for you. It seems as if every particle of faith I have ever possessed

Woman in the Case MADALYNNE OBENCHAIN, with J. B. KENNEDY, Los Angeles broker, when he was slain from ambush and now held as a material witness.

has been broken, yet deep in my heart I believe that some day you are coming. * * * I am only the goodness of God that permits me to retain that thought so I can 'play on' until the end."

The closing lines read: "Please be happy, my Belton. We never know when the curtain may fall for the last time and love is all there is to the earthly life that is of any value."

A diary found among Mrs. Obenchain's effects contain numerous references to "Belton" and "B.", as well as other persons. The last entry was dated August 5, the day of the shooting. It stated: "Belton called. Wants me to go to the beach this afternoon."

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—A repair ticket for a gun, found in the pockets of Arthur C. Burch, under arrest at Los Angeles in connection with the murder of John B. Kennedy, was explained today when it was found Burch had left a rifle at a local store January 10 to be repaired. He was to have called for it February 1, but the gun still is at the store.

By CARL VICTOR LITTLE, United Press Staff Correspondent. EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 9.—Another story has been written around Main street. The first was penned by Sinclair Lewis, who later disclosed that this Northwestern University town was the scene of his novel and that Evanstonians were his characters.

The latest has been written in the police records of Los Angeles. The principals of Lewis stayed in Main street and, eventually, lived happily ever after. Characters of the new story left Main street and: Out in Los Angeles, J. Belton Kennedy was murdered. With him was Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, his fiancée and "prettiest co-ed of Northwestern University."

Madalynne is the former wife of Ralph Obenchain, prominent attorney, who was president of the senior law class when their college romance started.

Arthur Cortney Burch, son of a retired minister, and Northwestern University professor and chum of both Obenchain and his former wife, is held in connection with Kennedy's death.

WASHINGTON NOTES. WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The tax revision tangle, now puzzling congressional leaders, will be taken to President Harding by Republican members of the House ways and means committee. Chairman Fordney, shortly after Harding's return, asked the executive for a conference. The president replied that he was desirous of meeting members of the committee and discussing the problem as soon as possible.

The packer control bill, a subject of contention in Congress for nearly a score of years, was passed by the House today without record vote and sent to the White House for executive action. The measure gives the secretary of agriculture broad powers to regulate the meat packing industry.

Repeal of the 3 per cent tax on freight transportation and of the per cent tax upon passenger tickets on January, 1923, was taken up for consideration today by the House ways and means committee considering tax revision, but no final decision was reached.

The House ways and means committee this afternoon favorably reported bills continuing until November 27, 1921, the existing restrictions upon the importation of dyestuffs and imposing a duty of 90 per cent on importations of American-made goods from foreign countries.

The administration is hopeful that Congress can sufficiently finish its work on taxation and tariff by September 26 to be able to recess until the regular session in December. It was stated at the White House this afternoon.

The packer control bill passed the House finally today and goes to the Senate for approval.

Describing the Chicago Board of Trade as the "biggest gambling hell in the world," and charging that "legitimate machinery of the grain business has been prostituted to the purpose of pure gambling," Senator Capper, Republican of Kansas, in a long speech in the Senate today, urged the passage of his bill to provide federal regulation of the grain exchanges.

HINTS OF DEATH, DESPAIR VOICED IN VERSE, PROSE

Varying Moods of "Woman in the Case" Revealed in Mass of Writings.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—Love and sorrow, happiness and despair are mirrored in a great mass of prose and poetry found by the authorities in the effects of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, held as a material witness in the murder of John B. Kennedy. And through all the varying moods of the woman, as revealed by her writings, runs the frequent hint of death.

Four people figure in the correspondence—the woman herself, her former husband, Ralph B. Obenchain, attorney of Evanston, Ill.; Kennedy and an unidentified man known as "Ray." Few of the missives are signed but most of them bear the initials "M. D. C." Mrs. Obenchain's maiden name was Madalynne Donna Conner. Excerpts follow:

"I Long to Send for You, But Dear, I Do Not Dare"

This was written in a woman's penmanship in a small notebook. Oh, darling boy of my yesterday, If you but only knew How even now my hopes and plans Hold no one else but you.

My tears are softly falling As I sit in the old big chair; Oh, how I long to send for you, But dear, I do not dare.

The closing lines read: "God knows that I love you dearly And with a passion strong and true. But you have tired of me, Love, Tho I gave up all for you."

"One Golden Hour With You—Then to Die!"

This was also in the notebook: One Golden Hour I'd take my head Denial's plea forgot, Love's sacred chalice blest, Nor seek ensuing time enraptured thus to be— One Golden Hour—Life's recompense—and then—and then—die. M. D. C.

"If We Could Go Back We'd Play Differently"

This was also on North Shore stationery in a woman's hand: GOODBYE, 1919.

The old year has gone With the sighs and the tears, The useless dreams and still tears. A year as a moment in life, Some moments are years in the strife.

If we all could go back And shuffle the pack We would play life's cards differently, I fear.

"For We Always Reap Exactly What We Sow"

Also on North Shore Hotel stationery in a woman's hand: The snow is gently falling And my heart is sadly calling For the days of long ago: To go back and start life over, Separate the weeds from clover, For we always reap exactly what we sow.

"Ring Down the Curtain, For I Can Act No More"

This was written on stationery of the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago, in a woman's hand: Ring down the curtain, Nov. 20, 1920. For I can act no more: My greatest dreams of life are gone, My heart is scarred and sore.

"Ralph" Pours Out Love and "Longs to Take Her"

Another letter contained part of a poem, clipped from a newspaper, as follows: "You are the Wonder Flower of the Pastors of My Life."

"On Your Heart, in Your Eyes, through Your Lips I have Felt the Bliss of a Miraculous Love and Have Been Exalted Above This World."

"I am devoted to the Consciousness of Having Been Loved by You So Completely."

On the reverse side of the clipping the following, apparently by her husband, was written: "The words on the other side just seem to have been taken right out of my heart. They tell everything much like it has been with me. Oh, the wonderfulness of your love! Oh, sweetheart, if you know how I long to take you. With love, sweetheart, love, Ralph."

"She Was Dearest Thing in World"—So Truly You

"—all this I remember that she was the dearest thing in the world—vastly more dear than the pleasant land I remotely remembered, than all the books and all the poems I had known, than the deck above, with its sweet, pure air softly blowing under the cool, starry sky."

The following was penciled on the clipping: "These are such dear words. And tell so truly of you."

Roseland Schoolhouse Is Destroyed By Fire

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 9.—Fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, early today completely destroyed the Roseland school house, one-half mile from this city. The loss is estimated at $20,000. The school district has recently voted $15,000 for the construction of an addition and will use this amount, together with insurance, for replacement of the structure. It is thought that tramp may have built a fire in the building and thus started the blaze.

ing into the brush. Belton was sinking to the steps. I was paralyzed with terror." Did Kennedy say anything to you as he was dying? The girl remained silent for a moment, looking down into her lap. "Did he say, 'Good night, Madalynne'?" her questioner urged. "Yes," she said slowly, "that is what he said."

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain today proclaimed her love for John Belton Kennedy and declared she "didn't care what happened."

It was the first time since she was taken into custody as a material witness in the case that Mrs. Obenchain had been permitted to talk to newspaper men, and it was her first coherent account of the shooting down of Kennedy in front of his Beverly Hills cottage last Friday night.

You know, of course, that you will in all probability be indicted for murder," the young woman was asked.

With her eyelids fluttering, her mouth twitching and her hand pressed to her breast, she answered: "I don't care what they do. I don't care what happens to me. I thought too much of Mr. Kennedy and was too much shaken by the loss of him to think about myself."

Mrs. Obenchain said it was true she had summoned Burch to Los Angeles from the East, but said it was only through a natural desire to have a friend visit this city.

FOG DWELLER OF S. F. GETS COAT OF TAN HERE

John P. Ryan, aged 32, is one of the "Dwellers in the Fog" who live across the bay and who see the sun so seldom that when they are turned loose on the Eastbay beaches they fail to appreciate what Old Sol can do under full horsepower. Ryan spent Sunday at one of the beaches clad in a "within the law" bathing suit. Monday morning he awoke feeling like a fried egg. By Monday evening he felt twice as bad and appealed to the emergency hospital for relief. He was stripped and an examination showed him to be suffering from first degree burns of the arms, shoulders, thighs and legs; in fact all of John that protruded from his bathing suit had assumed a radiant glow rivaling the sunset. He was given treatment and put to bed. He lives at 14 Turk street, San Francisco.

WASHINGTON NOTES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The tax revision tangle, now puzzling congressional leaders, will be taken to President Harding by Republican members of the House ways and means committee. Chairman Fordney, shortly after Harding's return, asked the executive for a conference. The president replied that he was desirous of meeting members of the committee and discussing the problem as soon as possible.

The packer control bill, a subject of contention in Congress for nearly a score of years, was passed by the House today without record vote and sent to the White House for executive action. The measure gives the secretary of agriculture broad powers to regulate the meat packing industry.

Repeal of the 3 per cent tax on freight transportation and of the per cent tax upon passenger tickets on January, 1923, was taken up for consideration today by the House ways and means committee considering tax revision, but no final decision was reached.

The House ways and means committee this afternoon favorably reported bills continuing until November 27, 1921, the existing restrictions upon the importation of dyestuffs and imposing a duty of 90 per cent on importations of American-made goods from foreign countries.

The administration is hopeful that Congress can sufficiently finish its work on taxation and tariff by September 26 to be able to recess until the regular session in December. It was stated at the White House this afternoon.

The packer control bill passed the House finally today and goes to the Senate for approval.

Describing the Chicago Board of Trade as the "biggest gambling hell in the world," and charging that "legitimate machinery of the grain business has been prostituted to the purpose of pure gambling," Senator Capper, Republican of Kansas, in a long speech in the Senate today, urged the passage of his bill to provide federal regulation of the grain exchanges.

BALL PLAYER, SUICIDE. LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—Frank Brown, 48, formerly a professional baseball player, committed suicide in a rooming house here today by making a rope from a bed sheet, then strangling himself. The police discovered no motive for the act.

Roseland Schoolhouse Is Destroyed By Fire

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 9.—Fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, early today completely destroyed the Roseland school house, one-half mile from this city. The loss is estimated at $20,000. The school district has recently voted $15,000 for the construction of an addition and will use this amount, together with insurance, for replacement of the structure. It is thought that tramp may have built a fire in the building and thus started the blaze.

A new Truck Tire Service:

judge for yourself its value to you

UNTIL now American truck owners have never had at their disposal absolutely impartial, honest advice about the right type and right size tire for a specific trucking condition.

As much money is wasted today on wrong truck tires as on poor ones.

The makers of United States Tires are ready to give anybody engaged in truck operation a full advisory service in the interest of greater economy.

Independent and non-partisan advice. A service by experts who have no theories to try out—who make no favorite of either pneumatics or solids.

The equivalent of a personal consultation with the best tire-engineering brains in the country.

No obligation to anyone who asks for it.

Write to our Technical Service Dept. at any length. On questions involving one truck or a fleet of fifty trucks. Recommendations will be for the right size of tire, the right kind of tire, and greater economy.

To men who are ordering new trucks a special word: Consider tires as a separate problem from the truck itself. Get the right tire equipment for it before it is delivered—not afterward.

Address all letters to Technical Service Dept., United States Tire Co., 1790 Broadway, New York City.

The fuller the details you give about your truck tire problem the better you can be served by the U. S. Technical Service men.

FURNITURE MEN OF WHOLE COAST GATHER AT S. F.

Opening of New Exchange Is Celebrated With Big Trade Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—More than 1000 furniture dealers are in attendance at the largest furniture trade convention ever held here, which signals the formal opening of the new eight-story building of the Furniture Exchange, Howard and New Montgomery streets. The delegates are from cities and towns ranging north to Puget Sound, south to San Diego and east to the Rockies. The convention formally opened last night with a banquet in the banquet hall of the Furniture Exchange building, at which high tribute to the work of the exchange was paid by a number of speakers, including Mayor James Rolph Jr., Harry J. Moore, H. S. Greene and others. The keys of the city were presented to the assembled furniture men by Mayor Rolph and accepted on behalf of the convention by Douglas White, secretary and manager of the Retail Furniture Manufacturers Association of California.

"Contact between the dealers and manufacturers is the first necessity for success and is afforded in such large measure in the Furniture Exchange that a tremendous growth in the future is made possible. The next few years will place the products of the Pacific Coast region on an equal footing if not ahead, of the products of any other section of the world," declared White.

Following the banquet the delegates made a tour of the exchange building, which is filled with exhibits of the furniture dealers. S. E. Conybeare, advertising manager of the Armstrong Cork Company of Lancaster, Pa., addressed a luncheon of the furniture men at noon today on "The Value of Proper Store and Window Display."

Charles W. Duncan, sales manager for Foster & Kleiser, will speak at a luncheon tomorrow on "The Use of Color in the Display of Merchandise."

Jefferson Davis Obelisk To Be Unveiled in 1922

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 9.—The Jefferson Davis obelisk, crowning monument to the president of the Southern Confederacy, will be unveiled June 3, 1922, at Davis' birthplace in Fairview, Ky., on his 114th anniversary. The Davis homestead is about 140 miles from Hodgenville, Ky., where Abraham Lincoln was born.

The obelisk, which will be 175 feet high, is today within five feet of completion. It was planned originally to erect a shaft 350 feet, to be erected only by the Washington monument, but the Jefferson Davis Home Association decided to hasten the unveiling in accordance with the wish of Confederate veterans anxious to participate in the ceremonies the unveiling rank, urged completion as soon as possible. The work was started in 1917 and was interrupted by the world war.

Profiles in bronze of Davis and his daughter, Mrs. Margaret Davis Hayes, one of the most beautiful women of the South, ornament the base of the monument, which is 43 feet square. It contains a room for relics.

The shaft is situated in Jefferson Davis park, which takes in part of the farm on which the president of the Confederacy was born on June 3, 1808, less than a year before Lincoln. The park comprises about 23 acres. The town of Fairview gains its name from one of the most beautiful landscapes in the South.

Cost of the monument to date is about $100,000, which was raised by popular subscription. Mrs. Roy McKinney of Paducah, Ky., president general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, at the head of a committee of Daughters and Confederate veterans, organized every county in the state to complete the shaft. General William B. Haldeman, formerly owner with Colonel Henry Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal, is president of the Jefferson Davis Home Association, succeeding the late General Bennett H. Young of Louisville, four times commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans. General George W. Littlefield of Austin, Texas, and General Julian S. Carr of Durham, N. C., were promoters with General Young of the original conception.

Care of the monument and park will be supervised by the state of Kentucky after the unveiling, by act of the 1920 legislature. Two other monuments commemorate the Confederate president, one in Richmond, Va., the capital of the Confederacy, and the other in New Orleans. Both were built through efforts of the women of the South.

Woman Rout Armed Thug With Pillow

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Ray A. Scott, 204 Prospect avenue, Long Beach, a sister-in-law of Superior Court Judge Charles Burnell of Los Angeles, owes her safety and continued possession of her jewelry to a sofa pillow, with which she put to flight a burglar who attempted to hold her up in her home.

Mrs. Scott was sitting on a pillow on her porch when the bandit appeared and demanded her rings. She struck the stranger a blow on the arm with the pillow, sending the revolver out of his hand to the ground. A struggle ensued and when the screams of the woman had roused neighbors, the man fled after compelling Mrs. Scott to release him by placing the point of the pistol against the woman's body.

Horn tried to dynamite the bridge which crosses the St. Croix river into New Brunswick on February 2, 1915.

Coal will be advanced $1.00 a ton September 1

Coal prices are on the rise! Dealers in other sections of the state have already advanced their prices and the local dealers will be compelled to do likewise on the first of the month.

A deficiency in production is the cause. Thousands of miners have been idle as a result of the buyers' strike. It is claimed that a coal shortage is bound to result.

The Coal Dealers of Alameda County voluntarily reduced the price $1.00 a ton in an effort to stimulate immediate buying. This discount wasn't warranted! It came out of the dealer's just profits.

Now, the price must go back—it must be advanced $1.00 a ton on September 1.

In a mercenary sense, the dealers would be justified in making this raise immediately. However, it is considered a duty to give the public ample notice for its protection.

NEW BUILDING FOR VETERANS RICHMOND PLAN

City Council Gives $25,000
For Purpose; Contest Over Policewoman.

RICHMOND, Aug. 8.—The City Council last night appropriated $25,000 for the erection of the first unit of a community building to be dedicated to ex-servicemen, on the property purchased by the city for this purpose last year at a cost of $30,000. The appropriation made last night was with the understanding that the money could not be used for any other purpose, and that the Board of Supervisors of Contra Costa county would be asked to make an appropriation under the new state law permitting a tax levy for the building dedicated to servicemen of the late world war.

The appropriation last night makes a total of $55,000 set aside by the city during the two years, including the present fiscal year.

New proceedings ordering the improvement of Twenty-ninth street were started by the City Council last night. Previous proceedings were rescinded, new plans and specifications and a resolution of intention were adopted.

A petition signed by seventy residents of North Richmond and the district adjacent to the city limits on the north, asking the City Council of Richmond and the Board of Supervisors of Contra Costa county to establish a sewer system partly inside the city and partly outside, was received by the Council last night and referred to the city attorney, city manager, city engineer and sewer committee for a week, with the understanding that a conference would be held with county officials to determine what action might be legally taken.

The petition was signed by twenty-one residents of the San Pablo Villa tract, which is inside the city limits, and by forty-nine who reside outside the city limits.

An ordinance recently adopted by the City Council prohibiting the burning or rubbing of private containers within the fire limits and requiring business men to have such rubbish removed by the garbage collectors, was under fire last night, and resulted in the question being referred to the fire chief and the city manager for solution. The fire chief and city manager are to confer with the business men in an effort to reach a satisfactory solution of the problem without increasing the fire hazard.

The office of policewoman, which was abolished when the City Council adopted the budget without including an appropriation for her salary, will not be re-established, it was indicated last night, when a petition asking the Council to reconsider its action was ordered filed by a vote of 5 to 3. Those voting to file the petition, which was signed by business men and merchants along Macdonald avenue, were: Councilmen Lane, Scott, Carey, Harney and Ward. Councilmen Plante, Osborn and Watson voted against tabling the motion. E. J. Crandell, one of the business men who circulated the petition, spoke in favor of keeping Mrs. Bernice McCormick in the position of policewoman. He said the business men of the city were almost unanimous in favor of her retaining the position and opposed to having the office abolished.

Major E. J. Garrard explained the position of the Council majority by stating that a number of complaints against Mrs. McCormick's salary, which had been received and that the women's auxiliary of the American Legion had requested the Council to keep Mrs. McCormick from attending a dance given by that organization.

James T. Narbett, local architect and Legion man, said he was one of those who had signed the petition to keep Mrs. McCormick. He said he had attended dances where she was present and had seen nothing objectionable in her censorship. Mrs. Clara Wilson, president of the Richmond W. T. U. declared that if a request that Mrs. McCormick be kept away from a dance was received, she believed there was good reason for her attending that dance.

EVERYONE BIDDEN TO THE DANCE AT EDEN SHOW

HAYWARD, Aug. 8.—Another free feature of the 1921 Eden Township Farm Products Show, which opens here Thursday for its big annual four-day display, was added yesterday in the decision of the executive committee to make the free dance to be held at the pavilion Thursday evening "on the house." The dance will be the official opening ball of the 1921 show. Queen Mae Pimentel and President J. L. Madison of the Show Association, will lead the Grand March. The dancing will commence at 9 p. m.

The regular dance concession will open Friday evening following the spectacular outdoor pageant and will continue Saturday and Sunday afternoon and Sunday afternoon, according to the committee in charge.

Final rehearsals for the main feature of Oakland Day, Friday, namely the big parade will be in the direction of Miss Marie of Oakland, are being held today. The parade will be held out of doors on the Fair grounds that evening commencing at 8 p. m. It is expected to last about an hour and a quarter, stated J. V. Viery, chairman of the committee in charge, here today. Between 50 and 75 local and Oakland girls are taking part.

PARADE PLANS COMPLETE.
Preparations for the big street parade which is to open the annual Eden Township Show were completed at a meeting of parade committee here yesterday. The line of parade will be as follows:

Parade will assemble at B and First street at 1 p. m. Thursday afternoon. Line of march will be down B to Main street, on Main street to A, on A to Castro, and then direct to the Fair grounds. The parade will form in the following order: W. T. Knightly, grand marshal and aides, Peter Hoare and Harold Meek; Mrs. T. L. Kelly and troupe of juveniles; Hayward municipal band, drill team of local organization (four entered); Queen Mae in decorated float; Hayward farm products school band, officials of Eden Township Show, Chamber of Commerce and town of Hayward (marching); decorated floats; decorated automobiles; special feature entries. Judges of the parade floats and autos will be Mrs. C. C. Turner, William Tudor of the California Automobile Association and Judge William J. Cannon of San Leandro.

Prizes will be awarded the best decorated float or automobile, the first prize being $20 and the second $10. A band concert by the Hayward municipal band will be given at the Fair grounds immediately following the big street parade. The grounds will be open for visitors at 1 p. m. Thursday, August 11, according to a ruling by the committee here today.

AUTO RACE A FEATURE.

As one of the special features for the closing day of the fair, Sunday, August 14, a high-speed auto race has been arranged by the publicity committee to take place at 10 a. m. on that morning. Entry blanks for this event can be had on request from Wesley Armstrong at his office at 568 Castro street. The "racers" will line up at Castro and A street, the official starting point to be opposite the fire house on Castro, between B and C streets. All machines competing must be in high gear when they cross the starting line and remain in high gear during the run to the Fair grounds. The last machine reaching the finish line opposite the upper entrance to the Eden township show will be declared the winner; $25, $15 and $10, first, second and third prizes are being offered. The event will be run under the supervision of county traffic officer Louis Elke and the municipal speed cop, Joseph Brandon, in cooperation with David R. Galbraith, local auto dealer. Rules regarding running details such as clutch slipping, etc., will be left entirely with this committee, according to Armstrong. Quite a number of local entries are expected.

Many other special features have been arranged for the closing day of the 1921 Farm Products Show, according to the entertainment committee. Sunday will be Alameda County Day at the Fair and huge crowds are anticipated from all over the county to be operated at the bay districts. The 1921 show will close at midnight of Sunday, August 14.

Final arrangements with regard to the direction of the coming show were completed at a meeting of the executive committee here last evening. Committees were appointed to handle the sale of tickets at the grounds, supervise admission at the two main entrances to the Fair and the Oakland Hotel station which are to be a feature of the land show. A special booth for the issuance of season tickets will be maintained at the Fair grounds. Single admissions will be 25 cents; children under ten years free; season tickets $1.

REFRESHMENT A-PLenty.

A refreshment concession supplying ice cream, soft drinks, hot dogs, sandwiches and pastry will be operated on the Fair grounds by the American Legion co-operating with the Hayward Civic League. The beautiful picnic grounds of Laurel Grove park will be open to parties all during the Fair.

Parking facilities for automobiles have been arranged within a short radius about the Fair grounds. There will be no automobiles allowed within the Fair grounds with the exception of the official Farm Products Show Queen's car. Concessions at the entrance of the set, each evening of the show. A special permit which will allow the station to send out wireless music is now pending. Horton and Hoyt are co-operating with the OAKLAND TRIBUNE in maintaining a wireless bulletin news service every evening at the land show. The bulletins will be received at 7:30 Thursday and Friday evening and at 7:30 and 10 p. m. Saturday evening. Visitors at THE TRIBUNE booth are invited to "listen in" on the extra head telephones that will be provided. The station will be opposite the upper entrance to the Eden township show; the Hayward 21k's Country Store and a number of novelties.

The music committee of the 1921 show has provided entertainment in this line for every minute of the four days. A six-piece jazz orchestra will augment the band music donated on Friday, Oakland Day, at the Fair, by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. Two orchestras will perform on the Fair grounds Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings. There will be a special concert by the Hayward municipal band Sunday afternoon.

The showman of the 1921 show, something doing every minute, has been generally adopted in each department. A special effort will be made to make the time pass merrily at the coming show, according to individual committee heads and department managers.

WIRELESS OFFERS TREAT.
Bulletins of Farm Products Show activities, including announcements of special feature events, will be sent out from the OAKLAND TRIBUNE wireless station to be operated at the 1921 show by Leander Hoyt and Edward Horton, the former an actor under the call letter 6 AWT and will receive the news bulletins from the Oakland Hotel station of P. D. Allen, who is also co-operating with the OAKLAND TRIBUNE in making this wireless service one of the features of the coming show.

Injuries in Crash Fatal To Dairyman

STOCKTON, Aug. 8.—J. P. Calidiera, Gustino dairyman, died today at his home as a result of injuries sustained when the auto in which he was riding was struck by a Southern Pacific train near Gustino on the State highway. ## HIGH CARFARES WILL BE FOUGHT BY S. J. COUNCIL

Railroad Board To Consider
Proposed Jump From 6
To 10 Cents.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 9.—The hearing of the application of the San Jose railroad for permission to increase its fares in this city from 6 to 10 cents will be resumed by the City Council tomorrow at 10 o'clock, according to an announcement by City Manager C. B. Goodwin to the City Council here last night.

The hearing will be resumed, it was stated, as the result of the completion by the railroad commission of the work of taking a historical reproduction of the San Jose railroad company's plant and lines. This valuation, set by the commission at $1,523,938, according to last night's report, was considered a victory for the city in its fight against the granting of the increase.

It was City Attorney Archer Bowden who had requested a reproduction of the valuation be made by the commission, following the request of the San Jose railroad that a return be granted them on the basis of a historical reproduction of the plant.

The consensus of opinion at the City Council meeting last night was that with this startling valuation against the proposed rate increase, the railroad commission cannot now expect to win its case.

The City Council also took action last night to further the city's fight against the proposed rate increase by asking the railroad commission by the Pacific Gas and Electric company by voting unanimously to transfer a new system of street lighting to the city attorney's fund. This, it was stated, would be a great help to the city.

Petitions for the grading and paving of North Second street, between St. James and Julian, and of George street, between First and San Pedro streets, were granted by the council.

The Alameda Stage company was granted a motor vehicle license to operate buses in this city. The remainder of the evening was taken up with purely routine business.

Pleasanton Will Oppose School Annexation Plan

PLEASANTON, Aug. 9.—Yesterday's meeting of the Business Men's Club was a very busy one and largely concerned with the high school problem which has been so energetically taken up in Livermore lately and which called forth a special meeting of the citizens of that city yesterday morning. The problem has taken a very sudden change, with results that are surprising this section and which are being commented on seriously by those outside Livermore.

In past years this district has been sending from twenty to thirty pupils from here to be educated at the Livermore Union High School and for this education the district has paid its share. In addition it paid its share of the expense of the other schools in the valley, sending pupils there who are not sharing in the expense and calling upon Livermore and Pleasanton to bear the burden.

Pleasanton has for a long time tried to impress upon the people of Livermore that it is paying its full share of the maintenance of the Livermore High School and stands ready at all times to do its full share in aiding to keep that school in its present high standard, but it does not want to help Livermore build a new high school and equip it fully and in a few years have to erect her own high school in this end of the county to accommodate local needs.

The time is not far distant when Pleasanton will be called upon to build its own high school and it will want to do it and hence this district will never suggest annexation of the Livermore Union High School District, say local business men.

BARBERS' RATES AROUSE IRE OF DEPUTY SHERIFF

Insists On Hair Cut Instead of Polish; Costs Him 50
Cents For 36.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 9.—Deputy Sheriff Robert Thompson, who has about as many hairs on his perfectly good head as a hen has teeth, expecting around the side and back, is today nursing one whole and complete grouch.

He feels that nobody loves a bald man—particularly a barber. The few hairs that Bob has on his head do grow long and yesterday Bob figured he was about due to have them clipped to the proper length, even though such action does make him look closer to the completely bald than he actually is. So he hid himself to a barber shop.

"Trim off the edges of those 36 hairs," he instructed the barber. "No sooner said than done." "Here I am," said Thompson with much gusto, "with just 36 hairs on my head—12 on each side and 12 in back—and you charge me just as much as if I had a full head of hair. You are a law against me. You should be paid like other men, according to the amount of actual work done."

But try as he might, Bob couldn't persuade the barber that the fee of 50 cents in his case wasn't legitimate. He was informed that it is the union price and now Thompson is sore at the unions.

Medic Goes Out For Lion; Rifle Falters on Job

SAN JOSE, Aug. 9.—Dr. F. S. Ryan, physician by vocation and hunter in the way of avocation, is today causing all luck in that he is unable to collect $25 from the State as bounty for killing a mountain lion.

No trace has as yet been found of the body of J. W. Oliver, husband of the dead woman, who is believed to have been drowned with her in the disaster.

Oscar L. Oliver, their only child, is a local writer.

J. W. Oliver had for ten years conducted a furniture store in South Alameda street, and the family had named a wide circle of friends. News of their death was received here with much sorrow.

Surviving Mrs. Oliver besides her son, are two sisters, Dolly Waller of this city, an employee of the Western Stationery company, and Mrs. L. E. L. of Boise, Idaho, while surviving Oliver should be dead, are three brothers, O. M. James M. and Daniel Oliver, all of this city.

Plans for the funeral services for Mrs. Oliver had not been made today, the family being undecided as to whether the services would be private or public. Details will probably not be arranged until tomorrow.

One of the particularly sad features of the case of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver is that the wife had an accident on the water and had perished with her husband not to make the trip to Portland by boat. Oliver had done a great deal of traveling by water and loved the ocean.

Turlock Grower Sends 'Cants' to British Royalty

TURLOCK, Aug. 9.—Introducing Frank Belier, the man who is introducing the famous Turlock cantaloupe to the king and queen of Great Britain.

Belier, grower, packer and shipper, is an ardent admirer of King George and so he conceived the happy idea of sending him a couple of crates of the finest cantaloupes the district affords. With the utmost care he made his selection, carefully packed the melons, labeled the crates so there could be no mistake as to their destination and sent them off by this time they are well across the Atlantic, and Belier expects to wake up under his door.

His plan will also prove or disprove the feasibility of shipping cantaloupes abroad.

Not to be outdone, however, Stanley Albright has shipped a crate of fancy "cants" by express to Queen Wilhelmina of Holland. He believes if the charming Dutch queen once dips a spoon into a properly led Turlock cantaloupe for breakfast, she'll admit having missed something exquisite at the morning meal at the Atlantic and Belier expects to join the B-B club.

At any rate a lot of royalty is very soon going to help put Turlock, Cal., on the world map.

Turlock Grower Sends 'Cants' to British Royalty

TURLOCK, Aug. 9.—Introducing Frank Belier, the man who is introducing the famous Turlock cantaloupe to the king and queen of Great Britain.

Belier, grower, packer and shipper, is an ardent admirer of King George and so he conceived the happy idea of sending him a couple of crates of the finest cantaloupes the district affords. With the utmost care he made his selection, carefully packed the melons, labeled the crates so there could be no mistake as to their destination and sent them off by this time they are well across the Atlantic, and Belier expects to wake up under his door.

His plan will also prove or disprove the feasibility of shipping cantaloupes abroad.

Not to be outdone, however, Stanley Albright has shipped a crate of fancy "cants" by express to Queen Wilhelmina of Holland. He believes if the charming Dutch queen once dips a spoon into a properly led Turlock cantaloupe for breakfast, she'll admit having missed something exquisite at the morning meal at the Atlantic and Belier expects to join the B-B club.

At any rate a lot of royalty is very soon going to help put Turlock, Cal., on the world map.

LOCAL UNIONS VOTE AGAINST GENERAL STRIKE

Organized Workers of Eastbay
Refuse S. F. Plea For Walkout.

That deliberate attempts are being made by the Rank and File Federation to disrupt organized labor in the Eastbay in favor of the One Big Union idea was the statement issued today by officials of the Alameda County Building Trades Council and the Alameda County Central Labor Council. Declaring the efforts of the members of the outlying organization to be advocates of "rank radicalism," officials of the Eastbay union headquarters organization announced that the individual unions had voted more than three to one to remain at work. There will be no building trades strike in Alameda county, the unions said, in submitting the vote to union headquarters.

Total vote of the unions compiled today shows that 2000 voted to remain at work and 2000 voted to strike. Members of the unions who voted to strike had been included in the lockout of the past three months, union officials said. The meeting was held last Saturday in the Eastbay union headquarters in Alameda, in addition to 500 striking union men of Alameda county, was for the purpose of uniting the idea and tenets of the One Big Union idea organization, according to union heads.

Attempts of San Francisco outlaws to disrupt the Alameda county union officials announced, to disrupt organized labor in the Eastbay, followed failure to disorganize labor in San Francisco. More union men and women have been organized in the Eastbay than in San Francisco, it was announced from union headquarters.

Carpenters, painters and teamsters in Alameda county have received telegraphic warning not to take part in any general strike. The warning comes from the head offices of the unions and is being taken by them that action will be taken if the orders are violated. In San Francisco today the strike committee is seeking to get members of the unions and the rank and file to join the strike. The committee is trying to get the rank and file to join the strike, the committee said. The rank and file are being urged to join the strike, the committee said. The rank and file are being urged to join the strike, the committee said.

Bakery Wagon Drivers will not join the strike, it is said today. Instead, will go on with negotiations for a 1922 agreement with the Master Bakers Association. According to the general strike committee 200 men were pulled from work in San Francisco yesterday. This number, the Builders' Exchange says, is greatly in excess of that which represents the facts. "The number is so small that we have paid no attention to it," said W. H. George of the exchange conference committee.

Bay Farm Marshes Will Be Reclaimed

More than 2000 acres of salt marsh on Bay Farm Island is being reclaimed as arable land, according to a report filed with the supervisors by County Surveyor Perry A. Haviland. Already 977 acres have been reclaimed, which with the other land to be salvaged, will increase the value of county property by more than $1,500,000. The land is being reclaimed under provisions of a bill passed by the last legislature, a measure which included it in the Bay Farm Island Reclamation District and allowed for bonding and for the crossing of bonds. The bill is a present owned by the E. B. and A. L. Stone Company, and it is said that $158,027 has already been spent on the project. The supervisors, it is believed, will be asked to give consent for the company to issue bonds under the new state act.

Hold-Up Suspects Ordered Dismissed

Handcapped by the necessity of taking the testimony of an interpreter, Deputy District Attorney Earl G. Hiden was tried once, the jury also disagreeing, 6 to 6.

Instead of being decreased, according to ninth army corps area officers, who have declared against the move, the army should be increased by several hundred thousand men.

The Glory of the Salad

JEVNE'S Mayonnaise is an added glory to the red, ripe tomato peeled and iced and stuffed with a surprise of celery and other crisp morsels of goodness.

The sharp acid of the tomato is neutralized by the smooth, rich flavor of Jevne's Mayonnaise and this perfect blend results in the most palatable of dishes.

JEVNE'S MAYONNAISE comes ready to serve. It is made of pure ingredients scientifically and accurately mixed in just the right proportions. No longer is there any need for the old bother of hit-or-miss mixing at home when you can get Jevne's at your grocer's.

JEVNE'S Mayonnaise
in jars ready to serve

Take large well ripened, firm tomatoes, scoop all the inside fruit out smoothly, they stuff with the following:

- 1 cup boiled ham, chopped fine
- 1 hard boiled egg, mashed
- 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 1 tablespoon melted butter or oil
- 1 green pepper, chopped fine
- About 3 tablespoons cracker dust

Mix well together, fill the tomatoes and place in ice cream freezer, pack in ice and let remain until frozen. Serve on lettuce leaves with dash of JEVNE'S MAYONNAISE.

CHINESE STUDENT ALLIANCE PLANS BETTER REPUBLIC

Rebuilding China Is Theme Before Conference Begun At U. of C.

BERKELEY, Aug. 9.—"Rebuilding of China—Our Part of the Task," will be the principal topic of discussion and feature of the twentieth annual conference of the Western Section of the Chinese Students' Alliance, which convened at the University of California today and will hold session until August 13. Chinese students from all parts of the Pacific coast are in attendance. Struggle in the midst of political chaos in a period of drastic transformation, China is in dire need of leadership of the right sort and it is from her students, who have had their preparation in America, that she must look up to, according to the theme of the conference discussed today.

Oratorical contests, emphasis of which will be laid chiefly in the development of the central theme, will be held in English, Cantonese and Mandarin. Prizes will be awarded the winners of the contests through Consul K. L. Yih, Dr. H. Y. Yan and Alfred S. K. See, Chinese minister at Washington.

Dr. David P. Barrows extended the invitation on behalf of the University of California, as host to the visiting Chinese, of which there are practically 200 in attendance. Mayor Louis Bartlett also extended the hand of good fellowship to the Chinese visitors.

Most of the morning was given over to registration and committee meetings, while during the afternoon the visitors will be escorted to view the campus by members of the faculty. Tonight there will be a reception.

The program for the four remaining days of the conference follows: Tuesday, August 9.—9 a. m. to 6 p. m., registration; 10 a. m. to 12 p. m., committee meeting; 1 to 4 p. m., visiting campus; 8 to 10 p. m., opening reception.

Wednesday.—9 to 11 a. m., platform addresses and open forum; 11 a. m. to 12, business meeting; 1 to 5 p. m., preliminary tennis tournament; 8 to 10 p. m., English oratory.

Thursday.—8 a. m. to 5 p. m., tug excursion; 8:10 to 10 p. m., S. F. Y. M. C. A. reception.

Friday.—8:30 a. m. to 9:30 p. m., basketball game; 10 a. m. to 12 p. m., platform address and open forum; 12 m. to 1:30 p. m., luncheon (Stiles Hall); 1:30 to 3:30 p. m., picture taking; 2 to 4 p. m., final tennis tournament; 8 to 11:30 p. m., social and dance.

Saturday.—10 a. m. to 12 m., Chinese oratory; 1:30 to 4:30 p. m., track events; 6:30 to 9:30 p. m., farewell banquet and awarding of prizes.

Straits Cities To Carry Fight To River Pests

MARTINEZ, Aug. 9.—Organization of a mosquito campaign to be conducted by Martinez, Benito, Suisun, Fairfield, Antioch and other cities along Carquinez Straits and Suisun Bay appeared likely today with the Martinez Chamber of Commerce leading the move, with a request to the University of California that one of its experts in rodent and pest control be sent here to make a survey. A similar move is under way in the county government, as result of communications sent by the board of supervisors to the boards of San Joaquin and Solano counties, urging a union for fighting mosquitoes.

It is thought that with the cities along the Straits and Suisun Bay uniting an effective campaign can be made in a few months.

Man Is Accused As Poolroom Robber

Identified as the second of two men who held up a poolroom at 206 East Twelfth street August 1, Jesse Perry was arrested last night at Twelfth and Broadway by Inspectors Robert Tracy and R. M. Goodwin, and locked in the city jail.

The robbery of the poolroom was a fiasco. C. M. Webster, a customer, objected to being robbed, grasped a brilliant cue in his right hand, chased the robbers into the vacant lot despite a pistol fired at him, cornered one of the robbers, beat him with the cue, and sent him to jail. He also furnished a good description of the second man, and this morning identified Perry as that man.

Lou Says He's Puzzled By Action of Geraldine

(Copyright, 1921, by United Press.) NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(United Press)—Lou Tellegen, actor husband of Geraldine Farrar, today told his story of the collapse of his matrimonial bliss.

The break between himself and his prima donna wife came "like a bolt from the clear sky," he told the United Press in the first interview he has given since Miss Farrar locked him from their apartment and he gave notice that he intended to sue for separation.

Tellegen declared he had no idea why his wife had locked him out and intimated, from his tone, that there was still a possibility of reconciliation.

"I cannot discuss the nature of the complaint my lawyers have drawn," he said. "It will speak for itself when filed—if such a step is decided upon."

"The lockout" was "adding insult to injury," Tellegen said, but refused to state what the "injury" might have been.

Tellegen said he had been notified that Miss Farrar had sent his clothing to a storage warehouse. He had no comment.

"I recently returned to New York after ten months on the road," Tellegen said. "I went to Long Beach to rest, fish and study my next play."

"My wife visited me there twice, the last time about July 18. We spent the afternoon together and I planned to return to my home in New York during the next few days."

"Before I could do this, a letter was delivered to me, directing me not to return home and cautioning me not to approach my wife. This came like a bolt from a clear sky."

"Surprised, I went to my home to find myself locked out."

"I have no idea why this drastic action was taken. But, having been humiliated and embarrassed, it was necessary to take immediate action, which I did."

"The survivors of the wreck stepped into San Francisco today and gave three cheers for dry land and the end of their troubles."

They were practically the last of the wreck survivors to reach San Francisco, which had been their destination when the Alaska crashed onto Blunt's Reef Saturday night.

The survivors' trail left Eureka at 8:15 p. m. yesterday. No sooner was it under way than drummers' vans were driven out of the smoking compartments and the air was cleared for shipwreck stories only.

Each survivor had a story to tell, but all were seeing the funny side at last.

"I was floating looking for a lifeboat and all of a sudden I saw something white nearby. I threw my arms around it and I began to sink.

"I thought it was my life preserver sinking and I tried to hold it up. Later I found it was a sack of flour."

That was the story told by Lew White of Astoria, Ore.

It was typical of the yarns which were spun until well toward midnight. After the last light was out in the sleeping car, stories still were being told over the tops of upper berths.

But the survivors got their greatest thrill when the baggage agent came aboard.

"Baggage for San Francisco?" he called.

"Haw, haw, haw," was the chorus which went up from the entire train. Baggage to the survivors was one huge joke. It just simply didn't exist.

Operation Ordered To Cure Boy Thief

DEFIANCE, O., Aug. 6.—A surgical operation at the expense of Defiance county is the unique sentence imposed upon 12-year-old Willie Hauser of Hicksville by Probate Judge C. W. Palmer.

When the lad was accused of stealing an auto the judge, before deciding upon the nature of the corrective measure to be applied in the case, called in a physician.

The doctor informed the judge that abnormal tonsils and large adenoid growths had retarded the boy's physical and mental development.

Willie is now at his home in Hicksville under probation. The court will await the effect of the operation on the youngster's character before taking further action.

N. Y. LINES SAVE $5,000,000 WHEN MEN O. K. SLASH

Interborough had Rapid Transit Employees Voluntary Agree to Reduction.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Recent action of approximately 20,000 employees of the Interborough and Brooklyn Rapid Transit companies in voluntarily accepting wage reductions of 10 per cent will save these systems nearly $5,000,000 in annual operating expenses.

The workers of these two great transportation systems which cover Greater New York are organized under "employees' representation" plans.

The Interborough workers accepted the wage cut by a vote of $341 to $130. The employees of the Brooklyn system accepted the decrease through a committee elected under a representation plan adopted last fall.

The Interborough Brotherhood organization, approved by the employees in August, 1916, has a membership today of more than 15,000.

While all questions as to wages and working conditions that arise are handled by the brotherhood, the company takes care of the questions of efficiency or discipline of members. The employees nominate and elect by secret ballot one committee man to every 250 employees. The organization is carried on at no expense to the members.

The Brooklyn Rapid Transit employees' representation plan, which is now being developed, provides for the election, by groups of employees, of representatives empowered to confer with the various department heads regarding working conditions and wages. Between 12,000 and 13,000 employees are working under this arrangement. The company also has in its employ about 1900 motormen, switchmen and trowermen, members of international union organizations, who are working under agreements that do not expire until January 1 next. The wages of these men have not been reduced but negotiations are being conducted toward that end.

AID FOR RUSSIA FROM WORLD IS ASKED BY POPE

ROME, Aug. 9.—An invocation to Divine Providence to hasten the end of the tremendous scourge that is afflicting Russia is contained in the appeal of Pope Benedict for aid for the starving and plague afflicted Russians, made in his letter to Cardinal Gashparri, the papal secretary of state, inviting all Christians and civilized people to contribute generously to this cause.

The Pope, in his letter, instructs Cardinal Gashparri to lay the subject before the governments of the various nations for their "Prompt and efficacious common action in the name of the Love of the Divine Redeemer, who gave His blood to make us all brothers."

"This people," the letter continued, "although separated from us by barriers raised by long centuries, are, because of their calamity, near our paternal heart."

BAGGAGE? NO, IT DIDN'T EXIST FOR THESE MEN

By M. D. TRACY. United Press Staff Correspondent. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—A happy, joking crowd of survivors of the wreck of the steamer Alaska stepped into San Francisco today and gave three cheers for dry land and the end of their troubles.

They were practically the last of the wreck survivors to reach San Francisco, which had been their destination when the Alaska crashed onto Blunt's Reef Saturday night.

ANOTHER SHIP WRECK.

Once again THE TRIBUNE accepts the painful duty of calling attention to the bad administrative policy of shipping companies operating ships on coastwise routes in the Pacific. The steamer Alaska went on the rocks off the Mendocino coast Saturday night. The result: seventeen known dead and thirty missing.

Blunt's reef is five and one-half miles off Cape Mendocino. There is the graveyard of the Alaskas. Why was this steamer, with its 127 passengers and the crew of eighty, steaming within five or even fifteen miles off the dangerous Mendocino coast? It was because of the penuriousness of the steamship companies that try to save fuel, a meal and other operating expenses that are petty and insignificant when compared to the lives lost and the loss of the ship.

During the last sixteen years eighty-one vessels and 959 lives have been lost in coast steamship disasters. These tragedies were not due to bad navigation, as a rule, but to false administrative policies of the steamship companies, the aim at false economy.

If the companies will not be warned by their experiences, if they will not cease endangering the lives of passengers and crews unnecessarily, then it will be necessary to enact federal legislation compelling them to send their ships by a safe course further out to sea.

CORRECTLY REPORTED.

The episode of Lord Northcliffe in the United States is illuminating, as it is illustrative of an old-time habit to deny outright or to imply falsity to what appears in the newspapers. Double interest attaches to this incident, because Lord Northcliffe is himself one of the distinguished editors of the world, having control of the London Times, the London Daily Mail and other British newspapers.

To recapitulate briefly: The New York Times, upon the arrival of Lord Northcliffe in New York, printed an interview with Mr. Wickham Steed, editor of the London Times, who was the companion of Lord Northcliffe on his visit, in which Mr. Steed was represented as saying, in connection with the peace negotiations between Ireland and England, that King George had said to Mr. Lloyd George, British Prime Minister, in substance, "how long are you going to continue shooting my people in Ireland?"

As soon as this interview appeared in the New York Times, it was called to the Northcliffe papers, beyond reasonable doubt by their special correspondent in New York, and appeared in the Irish edition of the Daily Mail. The following day Mr. Lloyd George appeared in parliament with a statement authorized by King George to the effect that the account of the alleged conversation of the king regarding Ireland was a pure fabrication. Thereupon Lord Northcliffe cabled the king that he had never given any interview in which he voiced the words credited to him.

These circumstances brought deep satisfaction to thousands of individuals who think it is not a lie to deny the truth appearing in a newspaper. They could say the papers were wrong again.

But the fact of the matter is that Lord Northcliffe was never quoted in the New York Times or any other American newspaper as describing the alleged conversation between the king and prime minister. The original story in the New York paper quoted Mr. Steed, Lord Northcliffe's companion.

And the quotation was correct. Mr. Steed contented himself with saying that his remarks should not have been published. But they were uttered in a formal interview and not in confidence. Mr. Steed, being an experienced editor and conversant with English political conditions as well as official habits, should have recognized that his words were loaded with dynamite. Perhaps he was wholly conscious of the probable effect they would have. Certainly he cannot plead ignorance or lack of experience.

Moreover, it is apparent that Northcliffe knew pretty definitely what Mr. Steed was saying and would say. And Mr. Lloyd George and Lord Curzon declined to separate the responsibility of the utterances or Lord Northcliffe and his lieutenant, for they gave way to their discomfiture and closed the British embassy at Washington against Lord Northcliffe for all social functions.

We do not know whether King George ever spoke to his prime minister in the manner described by Mr. Steed, Northcliffe editor. That is a matter for England to decide. But as to Mr. Steed having been correctly quoted in American newspapers, that is fairly established. Mr. Steed has not denied his words nor withdrawn them.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

The Panama Canal represents a capital investment by the people of the United States, through their government, of about $367,000,000. Congress has appropriated a total of $467,000,000, a small amount of which has been diverted to other purposes or turned back into the treasury. About $30,000,000 has been spent for fortifications. Aside from the value of the canal to the nation as a factor in national defense, it represents a commercial improvement which promises to be a substantial asset. The government's estimate is that with tolls three times the amount of 1920, the canal could make an interest return on the investment. At five percent this would represent a net income over operating expenses of nearly $18,500,000.

The Panama Canal was opened at the very beginning of the Great War, August 24, 1914. Had there not been the European attraction for the operation of the canal might be better known. The vital necessity for cheaper transportation has quickened interest in the use of this waterway by coast to coast ships and the economic value of the canal for purely commercial purposes is coming to be appreciated. How the traffic through the canal has increased is shown by the following table:

Calendar Year.	Vessels.	Tons Cargo.
1914	1,088	1,145,234
1915	1,088	1,584,134
1916	787	1,878,196
1917	1,876	7,427,650
1918	2,120	7,294,502
1919	2,407	7,468,167
1920	2,478	11,256,119

The tolls are on the net tonnage and for the 2,814 ships passing through the canal in 1920 this amounted to 10,378,265 tons. This was 50 percent more than in the previous year. In addition to this amount of commercial traffic 221 government vessels, mostly of the navy, also used the canal, carrying over 364,000 tons of cargo, but passed toll free. Traffic for the first half of 1921 has been at an increasing rate.

The volume of traffic east and west is evenly balanced. In 1920 5,269,350 tons were carried from the Atlantic to the Pacific and 5,960,769 from the Pacific to the Atlantic. The greatest cargo movement was on the trade route from the west coast of South America to the east coast of the United States, altogether making up about one-fourth of the total.

Of the ships using the canal in 1920 those of the United States comprised 45 percent; British 30 percent; Japanese 5 percent and Norwegian 3.9 percent, with others in smaller numbers.

The principal cargo from Pacific to Atlantic was nitrate from Chili, with flour and wheat second, then cold storage products, lumber and sugar. From Atlantic to Pacific, oils, coal and sugar, and steel and iron. The decline in the nitrate trade was shown in the May traffic, however, with nitrate second and sugar and cold storage food products close behind nitrates.

World-wide competition for ocean traffic by the surplus of ships that is now available in the face of declining trade must lead new trade routes through the canal as an economy measure. It becomes of increasing importance to the United States if we pursue our declared policy of building up a permanent merchant marine. Economy in transportation between our coasts and between the eastern coast and Alaska is an essential and the Panama Canal appears to be approaching a period of greatly increased usefulness.

There has been introduced in Congress a resolution seeking to have restored the free tolls clause of the original Panama Act, passed in the Taft administration and which President Wilson forced Congress, under a Democratic majority, to repeal. This would mean that American ships engaged in coast to coast traffic would pass through the canal without the payment of tolls. Foreign shipping interests, foreign governments and American railroad interests will fight the restoration of the free-toll privilege for American ships.

President Harding is reported to be desirous of postponing discussions of free tolls in Congress until after his disarmament conference; he would like to avoid any unnecessary irritation of foreign nations while the disarmament conference is under consideration or in progress.

If it will serve the President's purpose to effect a settlement of Pacific problems and a reduction in military and naval expenditures, consideration of the amendment of the Canal act may properly be postponed. But it should be understood as only a postponement. The right of American ships and their American patrons to derive the greatest possible benefit from the Panama Canal should not be permitted permanently to lapse.

Some one in Cleveland claims that mental defects can be cured. Maybe so, but let us be exceedingly careful with the alleged remedy.

NOTES and COMMENT

Those who have made coastwise peccadilloes, if they have been observant, may have noticed the nervous desire of officers and crew to get into port so as to save a night's lodging or a meal. A vessel with, say, three hundred aboard, which avoids serving a dinner, for instance, effects a worth-while saving to the company and makes glad the hearts of the cabin crew. It has been charged more than once that such considerations account for vessels hugging the shore and taking a chance, instead of standing well out and being certain.

The State Board of Health treats the situation broadly when it posts a notice requesting the girls in its employ who have a definite plan of matrimony to make the same known. The reason of this earnestness is that three girls have married off in three weeks, and it is feared that an embargo in the office will follow. However, such inquisitiveness may not seem as offensive as it did in times further back.

According to reports Emma Goldman wants to come back and is ready to become an orderly citizen if she is let in again. She has surfaced in the Red Utopia of Russia, and is represented now to be in a frame of mind to appreciate a land where reasonable security to life is vouchsafed and where three meals a day are readily possible to all who work and many who do not.

The serious crime it is to violate the game laws is again exemplified in the case of a Yuba City man who shot a Chinese pheasant. A justice of the peace sentenced him to ninety days in jail. Taking into account the punishment meted out to humorists who drive automobiles while in an intoxicated condition, knocking over lampposts and burning beings, this appears to be at least ample.

The man who committed suicide because he inadvertently killed a prize rooster instead of a pheasant when sent out to catch and behold a fowl for the Sunday dinner seems entitled to the record. People have committed the rash act for all sorts of reasons, but the very serious financial condition which California faces during the next two years, in the hope that any proposed new projects requiring funds may be at least delayed until it is possible to cut down some of the enormous and consequent taxes with which California is faced.

I am rather of the opinion, if a real appreciation is had in California, as to what our financial condition really is, that there will be an even stronger reaction against the expenditure of funds than there is at the present time. Frankly, the condition is very serious, and I believe that the facts should be widely disseminated.

In spite of the fact that under the provisions of the King Tax Bill California will collect from corporations, banks, insurance companies and franchisees the largest state tax in history, the state has entered upon a new fiscal year confronted with a constructive deficit of more than $2,817,847.15 for the biennial period. This is shown by a recapitulation made of all the appropriation measures passed by the legislature and signed by Governor Stephens, which total $91,690,328.08.

A deduction of $2,635,000 from this figure, however, should be made, because this amount of money authorized by the present legislature will be paid in future years. This leaves a net authorized incurrence on revenues and surplus for the present two year period of some $2,000,000.

The total estimate of revenue for the general fund is less than $30,000,000, while the budget estimate of surplus totals $7,000,000, with a possible under estimate of a million more, and therefore provides the state government with total funds for the next two years of $37,000,000, which leaves a constructive deficit of at least $2,000,000.

The King Tax Bill is estimated by the State Board of Equalization to bring in $33,954,544.85 during 1921, as against $22,742,981.56 last year, or an increase of more than $11,200,000.

As a result of this condition, and faced with the knowledge that no additional taxes can be raised from the corporations for at least two years, and with the fact that the people of California will certainly not stand for any additional taxation upon private property, the state of California faces a period in which state officers and legislators must realize once and for all that retrenchment in state expenditures must be made, and that new projects requiring expenditures will not be tolerated by the voters.

As a result of this condition, there is very little chance that the coming special session of the legislature will be permitted or will for one minute desire to consider any legislation whatsoever requiring the expenditure of funds.

It is also equally certain that the people should look with extreme disfavor upon any proposed additional bond issues.

Whether we like it or not, this fact strikes directly at the power development program of the League of Municipalities, for there seems to be no chance for the setting up of any additional board or bureau in California having to do with the floating of state bond issues.

It has become more and more evident during the last sixty days that some plan is to be proposed for development of power within California, founded upon financial cooperation by the state with various cities in carrying out the financial burden

To the Editor of THE TRIBUNE:
Because there should be built up throughout the country a very firm intention on the part of the people to limit government expenditures, both within the nation and the state, I am taking the liberty of calling your attention to the very serious financial condition which California faces during the next two years, in the hope that any proposed new projects requiring funds may be at least delayed until it is possible to cut down some of the enormous and consequent taxes with which California is faced.

How to Treat a Burn That Is Not Very Serious
By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.
Perhaps the most frequent of all household accidents is the burn. No one of us escapes this painful experience.
Burns differ in degree and severity. How serious they are depends on their extent and depth. It is said that a very mild burn, so mild as merely to redden the surface, will result in death if two-thirds of the entire body is involved.
A deep burn of limited area is very much less dangerous. However, a deep burn involving one-third of the body area is apt to be fatal.
Burns of the face and hands are more important and serious than burns elsewhere. There is more shock usually from such injuries.
For slight and superficial burns some protecting agent should be used.
There is an endless number of remedies to be thought of in this connection. Perhaps the first is vasoline, but lard, butter, cream or any other grease will do as well.
Boric acid, flour or soda may be smeared over the painful surface. The powder will exclude the air and promote comfort.
During the war paraffine and ammonia oil were sprayed on burned surfaces. Several such mixtures, sold under various trade names, are to be found in drugstores. It is well to have a remedy of this sort in the medicine chest of every household.
The British army has a paraffine mixture, known as "government No. 7," or "paraffine No. 7." It is made as follows:
Hard paraffine, 67 per cent; soft paraffine, 25 per cent; olive oil, 5 per cent; eucalyptus oil, 2 per cent; resorcin dissolved in alcohol, 1 per cent.
This mixture is warmed until it is fluid and is painted on the burned skin. A brush may be used for the purpose. Then a thin layer of cotton is spread over the surface and wet with the paraffine mixture. Over all this is placed more cotton and a bandage is applied.
A simple burn remedy is made as follows:
Eucalyptus oil, 5 drops; menthol, 2 grains; caron oil, 1 ounce. Some of this mixture may be applied to the burn every little while.
Vaseline ointment, a very good solution is another useful and pain-alleviating application. It produces a lemon-colored stain of the skin, which can be removed by an alkaline solution of some sort.
The benzoated oxide of zinc ointment, which is useful in many skin conditions, will add to the comfort of the burned person.
I have spoken of several applications, hoping that one at least of the possible remedies may be available. Children suffer so from the effects of burns that it is well to have in mind a lot of things, so that some relief may be afforded the little sufferer instantly. Incidentally, we grown-ups are always glad to have a remedy at hand.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 9

The first commencement was held at Harvard College, the only one on record at which old-timers did not come back to tell how much better things were when they were graduated. This is the end of the Big Vacation. Francis Scott Key, author of the "Star-Spangled Banner," was born on this day in 1780. The Battle of Culpepper Court House, a spicy sort of affair, was fought August 9, 1862.

Back from the wood and the friendly grasses,
Back from the brooks and the mountain passes—
Here's where the work begins!
Back from the place where the peace is scissoring,
Where there is time for the dreams and fishing—
Here's where the work begins!

There one had books and the time to read them,
There were the lures and the whim to heed them;
Paths in the shade as the night was falling,
Pan piping, bird notes, calling—
Here's where the work begins!

Back where the poplar branches quiver,
Back with the love-song of the river,
Here's where the work begins!
Mind cleared of mad-things,
Filled with wonder,
Stems on the lake and the mountain thunder!

Back to the job and the grim intention
Back among men and the task invention—
Here's where the work begins!

And now to see how work tastes after the flavor of trout caught in the early morning hours, trout lured by a fancy named fly and from a river that filled the point of a V made by the high rising hills.

After doing the mountain roads and the highways on six cylinders it is a great fall this hitting the typewriter on three fingers, but oh molands and ladies it was worth it!

A proper way to take a vacation, we figured it out, was to go a ways up the state on a train and then take the mail stages from one station to another. We took care to avoid all places where there were summer resorts, dance pavilions, movie palaces and hot dog stands and never once did we see a railroad station.

After two days of easy staging over roads that were bridle trails ten years ago we landed in a little town in the Sierras that sits at the meeting place of two swift rivers.

And, the inhabitants, most of them old-time miners, sit on the sidewalk in front of the hotel where they speculate, calculate and expectorate. They are filled with the tales of the good old half-raising days and are the most hospitable and honest folk in the world.

It was not long ago, up there, that a man coming along the trail, found a gold watch beside a spring. He thrust a forked stick in the ground and hung the watch on it so that passersby could see. The watch stayed there for six weeks until the owner chanced by and found it. There isn't a family in the town that looks its door and there hasn't been a theft reported in the memory of the marshal. If a man was to jump a mining claim his next jump would be on the end of a rope.

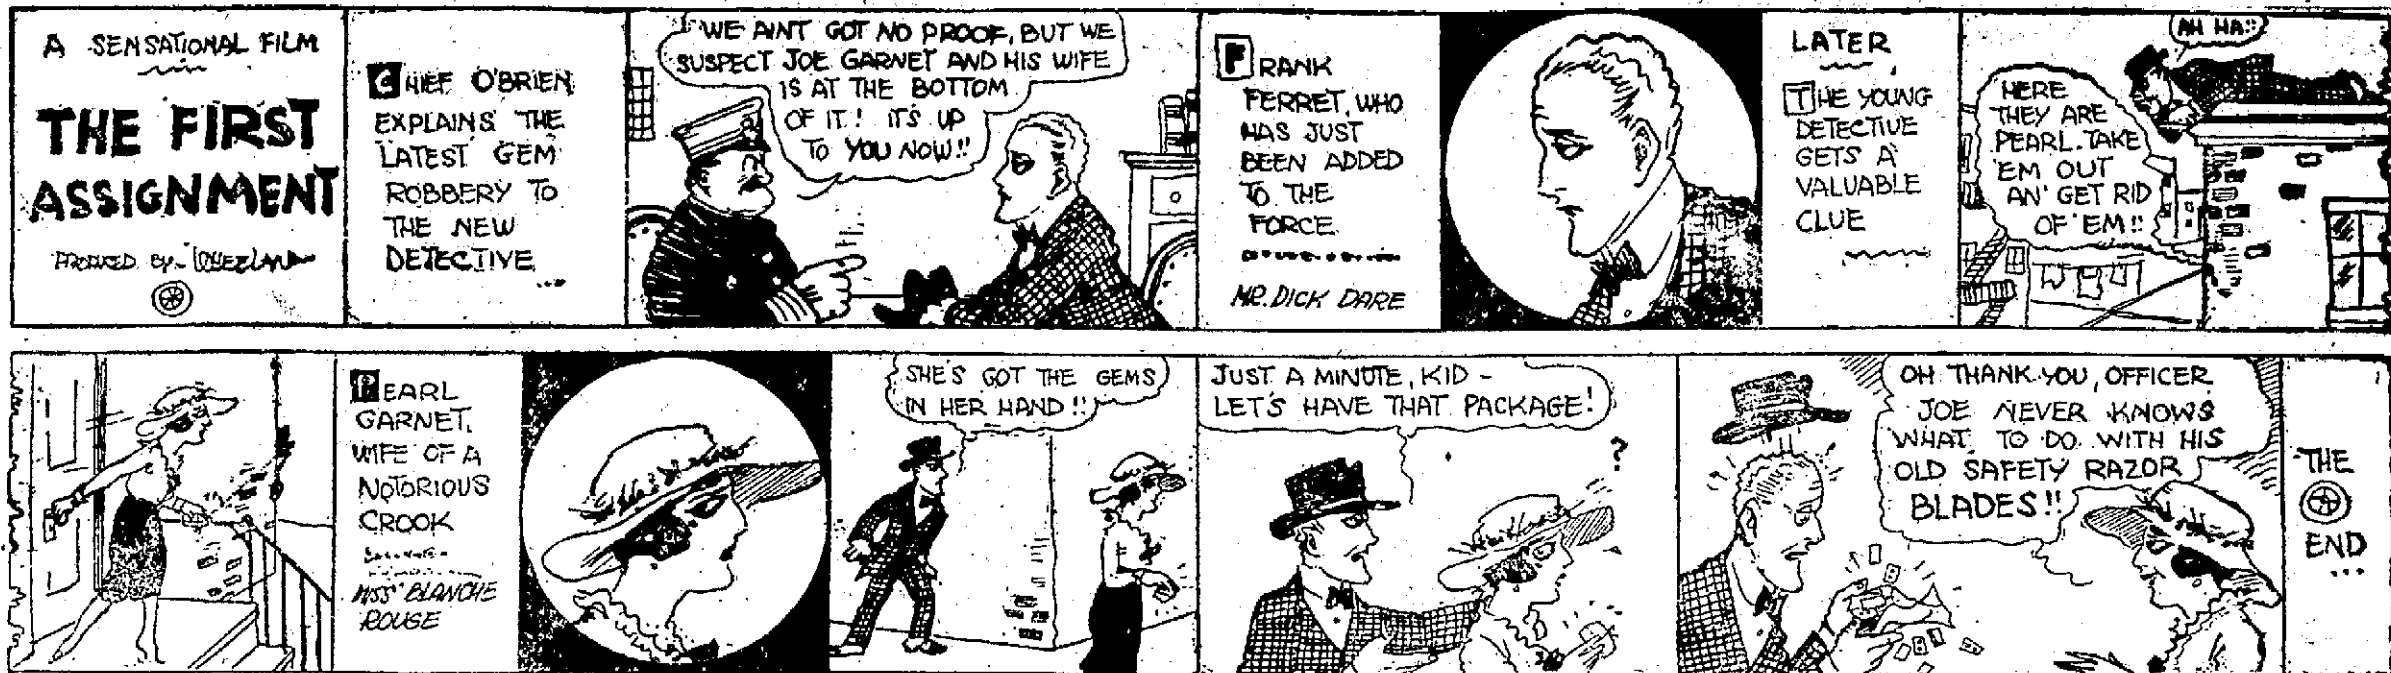

In front of the hotel there is a big tree eighteen inches in diameter. At the proper distance from the ground this tree has swelled out to be three feet wide and less than a foot thick. The strange growth is accountable by the fact that for fifty years and more men have been sitting on the hotel sidewalk with chairs tipped back, and their feet resting on the accommodating trunk.

Superior Court was in session when we were there and in honor of the occasion one man posted a notice on the hotel: "The undersigned Thomas Cleghorn will keep his backside stand open during the session of the court—Thos. Cleghorn." He supplied the legal polish at the rate of three shins a day and reported that business was pretty lively. Thomas arrived in that city in '53 and he can tell you about the time they had a bull and bear fight and that other time when a woman was hanged on a bridge in the center of town.

There is another man who will tell you, perhaps, of the time he was snowshoeing in the mountains and stepped off by mistake on a bank of fox. And the trained Almanacian, no doubt will notice a sign "Mrs. B. Aiken, dry goods," and allow one guess for what the initials stand for.

LITTLE FOUR-ROUNDERS COMPLETE TRAINING FOR THEIR BOUTS AT THE LOCAL AUDITORIUM

ROY SUTHERLAND AND TEDDY O'HARA READY FOR RETURN BATTLE

Matchmaker Tommy Simpson Arranges Nifty Set of Bouts For Auditorium Tomorrow.

Roy Sutherland thinks he can lick Teddy O'Hara again—and do a better job than he did last week. It would have been quite an easy matter for Sutherland to have side-stepped the Watts Tract boy this week and gone about his business with a victory over Teddy to his credit. Roy could have excused himself from the match on the grounds that he was tired after last week's bout, or had hurt a hand, or something—but the kid entered no objections when he was asked to repeat—in fact, he went after the match when he heard the O'Hara boosters chattering about a "lucky punch." Sutherland is training at Johnny Conde's gymnasium in Alameda and Johnny says he is in better shape than he was last week. Sutherland says he has licked better men than O'Hara, consequently he is not worrying about what may happen tomorrow evening.

Jerry O'Keefe is coming back again. Jerry is the champion of the Milk Wagon Drivers' Union and they say he has his punch from inhaling the cow juice. O'Keefe drives from door to door all day and then drives up to the fight house, takes his swagging and beats it away again behind his horses. He is a hard working boy, is Jerry, both in and out of the ring. Jerry's opponent tomorrow will be Jack Davis, the champion of the Ice Cream Wagon Drivers' Union who delivers cones and buckets of ice-cream all day long. Matchmaker Tommy Simpson says he is afraid the boys may clash while parking their trucks in front of the building or may start an argument over the number of customers they serve every day. The tip is out to watch Ernest Lundgren, the former Olympic Club lightweight. Ernle won seven out of eight via the K O route and he says the only decision he ever lost was taken by a club mate, Eddie Higgins, and Eddie has a habit of knocking 'em cold. Lundgren is one of the hardest hitters in his class and is an aggressive battler. Denny used to box around here when he was not peddling posies. Eddie Higgins, who flowers to furnish a million funerals and a flock of weddings and he says he is going to bring a nice bunch of posies for Lundgren tomorrow and—adds the florist, "I ain't going to get married either."

Henry Borba Claims Landing Championship.

Henry Borba, who holds the championship of Crows Landing, Knights Landing and a lot of other landings, will try some high and lofty landings on the classic features of Johnny Burns. Borba and Frankie Denny used to stage reunions in their Del Circuit and Denny says Harry is a real tough bird to play with in the ring. Louis Espen and Jimmy Farrell will provide the heavyweight attraction. Farrell got a drub with Gibson last week and licked Tom Morton the previous week. Espen drew with Johnson in the big stage reunion in the Del Circuit at a recent show across the bay. Sailor Johnny Karna a 150-pounder from San Jose, who has been winning all his fights with tackle "Red" Williams. The latter will be remembered as the threatener who threatened everything Johnny Burns had to offer at the Lester benefit show. It promises to be a struggling match all the way through. Jack Atell and Sailor Higgins middleweights and Johnny Pasternak and Frankie McCann, banties, will round out the card.

Ortega and McKay Staged An Exhibition.

Ring side accounts of the Battling Ortega-Gordon McKay fight will be clipped and given prominent places in the scrapbooks of the two fighters. Here is one that should go on the cover:

"A so-called pugilist by the name of Battling Ortega, of San Francisco, and another pseudo pugilist called Gordon McKay, of Ogden, turned on the boxing game at Lagoon last night and dealt it a lovely black eye pugilist, even so-called ones, are supposed to deal each other black eyes, but last night two fellows did it to the business which gives them an easy living and from which they receive much unearned increment. For a long time the boxing fans of the Pacific coast and the international section of the world, tributing liberally to the support of Ortega and McKay. As a mark of their appreciation the two alleged boxers hit the hands that feeds them last night.

AMBITIOUS ATHLETES ALREADY SENDING IN NAMES FOR MARATHON

Official Entry Blanks To Be Ready For Mailing in a Few Days; Watch the Tribune.

By DOUG. MONTELL.
With the big news of the approach of the Ninth Annual TRIBUNE Merritt Marathon out the boys are all eager to break the ice and be among the first on deck with their entries. It has almost become a tradition of TRIBUNE marathons that Wilbur Taylor of Alameda should be the first to slip along his entry blank for the big occasion and this year proved to be no exception. Tradition has been fulfilled, at least vocally, for Wilbur was on deck with both feet last Saturday to announce his intention of being among the countless starters on Admission Day.

Wilbur has been one of the faithful who always makes the annual jaunt around the lake with the boys and he always has finished well up among the stars.

Last year Wilbur was in a slump, but finished eighty-seventh, well ahead of a goodly number of the other aspirants for honors, for history reveals the fact that 143 starters took the mark on the morning of September 9, 1920, in the Eighth Annual TRIBUNE Marathon. The unexpected burst of early enthusiasm shown this year indicates that the number should be close to the 200 mark before the day of the race rolls around. No matter who slips along the first duly filled out entry blank, the honor of being the first to enter goes to Wilbur Taylor.

New Alameda Club To Go After Team Trophy.

Now that the W. K. W. Taylor has made Alameda famous for something other than merely being the body of land on the other side of the Estuary, today's mail brings to light an inquiry from the S. O. E. Club of the Alameda Athletic Association, in training for the new athletic organization in Alameda, and this bunch of new stars will rival the team of the Alameda Athletic Association. The Alameda Athletic Association will be on hand again this year and will make a strong bid for one of the team prizes. All coaches and managers of athletic organizations should be sure to have all their athletes registered by the Pacific Association of the A. A. U. well ahead of the race. There is always delay in attempting to register athletes at the last minute, and every year several runners are prevented from taking part due to non-registration. Application blanks for membership may be secured by writing to Merrill Andrews, secretary of the P. A. A. Flood Building, San Francisco. Full particulars and procedure are contained on the blank for application, which will be sent to all coaches, managers or unattached runners upon request.

Remember, You Must Be In Good Standing With P. A. A.

Runners who have previously been duly registered members of the P. A. A. must have P. A. cards which will not expire until on or after Sept. 9 of this year. Runners whose cards will expire between this date and the date of the race will have to re-register, and will those whose cards have already expired. Look up your P. A. cards NOW. Make sure that your card has not expired or that it will not expire before Sept. 9. It will seem like rubbing it in, but there are always many who head a nagging word of caution, and rather than have any runners suffer through negligence to proceed correctly, we will continue to dwell on the importance of being registered amateur athletes in good standing in order to participate in the Merritt Marathon on Admission Day. That is the only requirement if you are a registered athlete send us your entry blank and get down to the serious work of training. The four weeks will slip by altogether too fast, and he who gets in the good books early will be among those who will share in the many prizes after the race.

BOWLING ON THE GREEN

The second game between the Oakland and San Francisco Scottish bowling clubs for the bay cities cup and championship was played Saturday afternoon on the Lakeside park bowling green. And after many close and interesting moments resulted in a second win for the San Francisco club by one point, the final scores being 88 to 87. At the finish of the tenth end Oakland was 5 points up. The scores read as follows: Howden 6, Ragel 11, Allen 8, Maundrell 7, Hepworth 8, Fisher 9, McInnis 11, McLean 12—Oakland 33. San Francisco 28. The second or last part of the game read: Howden 6, Ragel 6, Allen 10, Maundrell 10, Howden 4, Fisher 15, McInnis 11, McLean 10—Oakland 34. San Francisco 40. Oakland won on 44 ends. San Francisco on 33. The most consistent bowling was done on rinks 1 and 2. Where the combined scores were a tie the number of ends won and won being also a tie. The final result was in doubt until Hepworth delivered his last bowl, when the result might easily have been turned into a win had he played the backhand instead of making the forehand. This was unfortunate, as a golden opportunity lay on that side, and "heroes" are made even on the bowling green and their names recorded in the chronicles of the game. The outstanding feature of the match was the striking of Ragel for San Francisco. It is unusual in bowling that a player of only one year's experience should be shipping a team in a match game. Yet on Saturday he demonstrated a knowledge of the fine points of the game and also played them. Failure to block him proved disastrous to the Howden rink as on three separate occasions where Oakland lay 5 points each time he turned it into a win for his side. The winning of the match entitles San Francisco to have its name written there as winner of the cup and the champions for 1921. There are fewer younger players taking up the game there than in Oakland, and it is only a matter of time when one of the two

Davis Cup Team Will Be Chosen In a Few Days

Tilden, Johnson, Washburn And Williams Likely To Compose Team.

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—America's team that will try to keep the Davis Cup in Uncle Sam's trophy room is to be selected this week. Although neither "Big Bill" Tilden nor "Little Bill" Johnston is crippled, the committee of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association figures it is going to have a hard job. If Argentine, Czechoslovakia or the Philippines had two players like the Bills who won the cup from Australia last winter they would have no worries about picking a team and possibly they would not have defaulted. The association had ever shown inclination to give young Vincent Richards credit, they might be debating seriously about giving him a place on the team. But it is a safe bet that little Vinnie will be ignored just like he has been in the past two years by the ranking committee and "Pick" Williams and Watson Washburn will be named with the Bills.

SPORTS OF ALL KINDS

By SID MERCER
HOW THIN STRICH BALL GAMES.

One of the summer complaints about baseball is the stretching of nine-inning games into tireless affairs lasting from two to three hours. The time spent in "stalling" would be cut down materially if umpires were instructed to prevent catchers and infielders throwing the ball about the diamond when there is no play. Compel pitchers to remain on the rubber until they serve a ball and break up those miss meetings around the pitcher when a dangerous situation arises. If they paid ball players for overtime the American League would go into bankruptcy by the end of this season.

No one seems to be able to explain why the average time of National League games is so much shorter. But the fact remains that it is. They played another of those thumb at the Polo grounds, recently. Two hours and twenty minutes for nine innings and only twenty players participated. The heat slowed up the pitchers but here are some of the other reasons why the game dragged.

Frequent changes of balls. Both Shocker and Mays asked Connolly to examine the ball and occasionally the batter called for a sure ball. The necessity of pitchers removing their gloves, placing same under their arms and rubbing the ball with bare hands to take off the gloss and to roughen the cover.

Confrontations between pitchers and catchers and pitchers and infielders. Every time either team threatened to score the field managers talked it over at their leisure.

Catchers and infielders (throwing the ball around between the appearance of hits at the plate. Occasionally the outfielder got a on this pastime, which is supposed to discolor the ball for the pitchers. Why couldn't it be a good idea to discard all of the silly precautions against "doctoring" the ball and go back to the old style pitching? The batters have too many advantages now. That's why good hitters are always being passed in a pinch. Shocker walked Ruth twice when the big fellow could have done some damage.

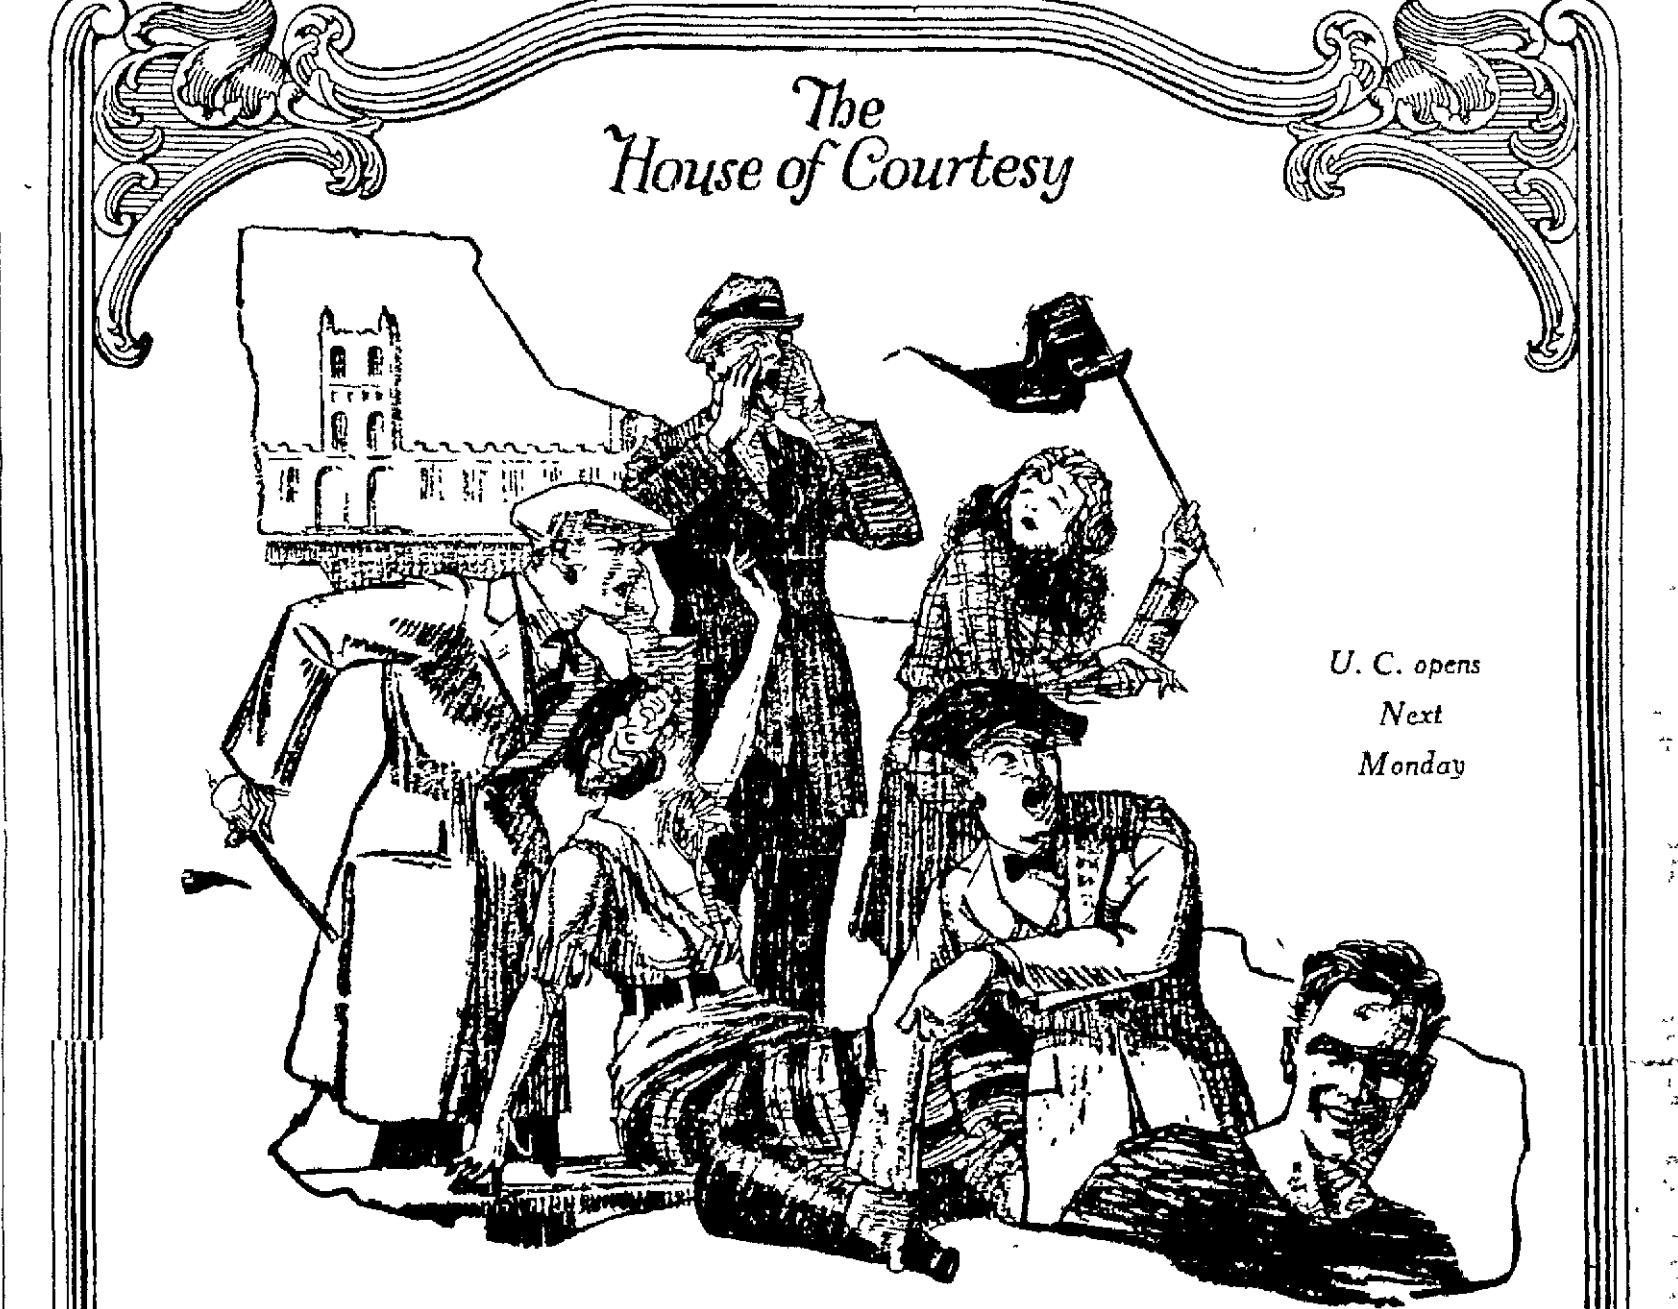

If you ask us, the pitching limit adopted two years ago is part of "what's the matter with baseball."

Second Fight Champion Has Had Postponed

Opinion Prevails That the Lightweight Champion Is Slipping.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—The Benny Leonard-Lew Tendler bout for world's lightweight championship will be held at the Philadelphia National League ball park on Wednesday, September 21, it was announced here today. The match, scheduled for Monday night, was postponed when Leonard dislocated his thumb yesterday in training.

Fight fans are inclined to believe that Leonard cannot get into condition. He is off his match with Sailor Friedman a few weeks ago, giving an attack of rheumatism as the reason and was by him to give Leonard a thumb. Leonard's last bout was with Rocky Karsang, a stage coach with little knowledge of the boxing game and Benny made a poor showing for a champion. Reports from the east in recent months were to the effect that the lightweight champion was slipping and in danger of losing his title the first time he met a live one. Benny has never taken any chances with his title.

WHEAT HARVEST OUTPUT

Estimates of Same Returns Made by Experts: Figures Very High.

By HOLLAND.
Exclusive to OAKLAND TRIBUNE.
NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—In the next six weeks the farmers of Nebraska, who have been cultivating wheat, will have in hand more than $25,000,000 if reports are justified. Nebraska is expected to harvest a little more than 25,000,000 bushels of wheat, which will be marketed probably at $1.12 per bushel. This is the best of the year for wheat growing states are likely to receive proportionately an even greater amount than the Nebraska farmers. Oklahoma should receive considerably more than $20,000,000. The wheat growing states of the Northwest will in the aggregate receive, according to the best estimate, not far from a $100,000,000.

The Washington authorities have estimated a production of a little more than 800,000,000 bushels of wheat. Some of the private estimates as high as $40,000,000. In any event it will be in excess of $50,000,000 bushels grown upon nearly 37,000,000 acres.

The harvest is as much as $10,000,000 bushels, and wheat commands $1.12 a bushel, this crop will be worth $25,000,000. It is estimated that at one time an estimate of James J. Hill that all the crops of the United States included cotton should give it properly cultivated a yearly return of $15,000,000.

With the falling off in the production of cotton which is inevitable this year because of the drought, the usual has been cultivated. Corn certainly will maintain its prestige as the most valuable of American agricultural products. Unless unfavorable weather sets in Nebraska will have a record harvest. It is estimated that the corn crop will be worth $15,000,000.

It may be that not so many bushels of corn will be harvested this year as last year, 2,200,000,000 bushels, but the price will be higher. The Washington authorities estimate that the corn harvest this year will fall short of the record year. Even though this estimate should prove accurate the farmers planted twice as many acres of corn as last year. It is estimated that the corn crop will be worth $15,000,000.

Other crop prospects, with corn and wheat, our chief food products and the money yield for $3,000,000,000. But it is not alone grain which is raised chiefly for export. There are potatoes, which nearly 60,000,000 tons will be harvested, cotton, of which the estimate is only 25,000,000 bales.

What the market price will be for each of these many products is uncertain. The total agriculture will furnish billions in new wealth notwithstanding the fact that the market price for agricultural products as compared with prices as these are sold to the consumer is smaller.

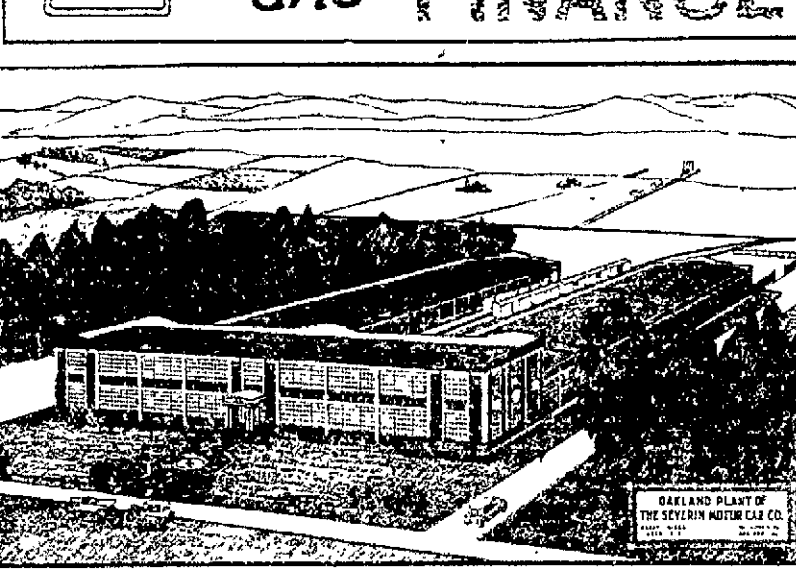

It is noticed that throughout the south notwithstanding the unfavorable weather conditions, the farmers are not idle. They have so cultivated their fields to corn that the harvest will be a record. In Missouri, for example, more corn has been planted than ever before, and in addition with the exception of Florida and Kentucky, more acres to oats than had ever been done.

These reports from the South suggest that diversification of crops has been well established throughout the country. In the past few years they have been occupied principally in the cultivation of cotton and corn. It is not realized that the possession of soil as well adapted to the cultivation of cotton and corn is a great advantage. Now Louisiana ranks among the great corn producing states and the market for corn is very large. It is estimated that the corn crop will be worth $15,000,000.

The South is to continue to be one of the chief corn producing belts of the United States. This outlook upon the future of the South is very favorable. In fact even before the falling off in the yield in corn in some of the northern states due to unfavorable weather, was almost made good by the corn harvest in the southern states.

Quantity we are to have an enormous crop this year although the prices are low. The past few years and it will be in great measure upon American agriculture and the prosperity which will be well under way next year, will be based.

BUSINESS and FINANCE

Sketch of the new Severin motor car factory which will be located in Oakland near East Fourteenth street, probably at Twenty-eighth avenue. The company will begin manufacture on leased property while construction is under way.

Removal of the Severin Motor Car Company from its former Kansas City location to Oakland is now in progress, following the opening of offices of the concern in the Henshaw building at Oakland. The company, it is announced, will erect a factory at once. In the meantime it is negotiating a lease on a temporary manufacturing site and conducting a sale of its securities.

The sketch which is presented herewith is the plan for the new factory prepared by Maury Diers, architect.

The factory probably is to be located at Twenty-eighth avenue and East Fourteenth street, it is stated, although the deal for property here is not closed and one of two tentative locations farther out Fourteenth street have been considered.

President Severin of the Company, after opening offices here and putting the market 70,000 shares of the firm's $10 per value capital shares, has returned to Kansas City, where it is stated he will ship west at once machinery and material which is stored for the new plant. The factory is designed to be used to start production in temporary quarters here.

The Severin company which is re-organized with $1,000,000 capital has been in production on a limited scale in Kansas City. Severin, it is stated, retained $500,000 of the capital issue.

PACIFIC OIL HALF YEAR NOT WHOLLY TO TASTE.

Notwithstanding that earnings of $2.85 a share were figured before payment of Federal taxes on the basis of the semi-annual report of Pacific Oil just issued, that stock newly listed on the San Francisco exchange yesterday sold down to 35 1/2 today from an initial price, of 35 1/2 yesterday. The bid price, following sale at 35 1/2, went down to 33 1/2.

Reasons are, in part, traced to the report which it was to be considered a whole. There are potatoes, which nearly 60,000,000 tons will be harvested, cotton, of which the estimate is only 25,000,000 bales.

What the market price will be for each of these many products is uncertain. The total agriculture will furnish billions in new wealth notwithstanding the fact that the market price for agricultural products as compared with prices as these are sold to the consumer is smaller.

UTILITIES AND OTHER HIGHER VALUES BUREAU IS TOLD

Chief of State Farmers Speaks At Alameda Meeting On Plan To Fight.

Millions of dollars in increased railroad rates and power company charges are being planned for Alameda county and other California counties by utilities and corporations. Dr. W. W. Walker, president of the California Farm Bureau, told members of the Alameda County Farm Bureau at their weekly meeting, Dr. Walker has just returned from an extended trip in the east, where he was called by the National Farm Bureau to discuss the situation.

California corporations and utilities are taking a prominent part in the plans for increased rates. Dr. Walker, however, practically all of them increasing their property valuations upon which they can ask a raise in rates.

Railroads of the country intend asking valuation, Dr. Walker said, basing demand on contention that their roadbeds have never been given a proper value, and maintaining that the price should be fixed by the state. The proposed valuations upon which they can ask a raise in rates.

Power companies, Dr. Walker said, also are obtaining concessions from the state. He said that the immediate future, requesting the Railroad Commission to make the valuations.

Dr. Walker declared that the Farm Bureau of the United States had undertaken to fight the proposal of the railroad and other public utilities in efforts to advance valuations.

Error in quoting Spring Valley as Eastbay Water listed sales yesterday resulted in some inquiry among Eastbay security holders. The correct sales were 30 shares of preferred $5 at 45 and 25 at 63 1/2.

FITZMAURICE BECOMES BANK OF ITALY MAN.

Politically decapitated in the city hall shaken of recent date, W. M. Fitzmaurice, formerly collector of Oakland and later city treasurer, next Monday will take up his office in the Oakland Broadway branch of the Bank of Italy.

Announcement to that effect was made today by A. P. Giannini, president of the bank of Italy from San Francisco.

Fitzmaurice takes up his new office next Monday, the date on which A. J. Mount, cashier of the Central National Bank, formally will be succeeded in the office of vice-president of the Eastbay manager for the same bank.

SOUTHERN EDISON PLANS THIRD BIG CREEK PLANT.

Permission for authority to construct a power plant at Big Creek, Fresno, has been requested of the Southern California Edison Company, which has two power plants at Big Creek at present and said a third is needed to supply the demand for power. The request also asked to be authorized to connect the new unit with lines now carrying power to Los Angeles.

HAYWARD SCHOOL ISSUE PRICE FIGURES HIGH.

Attention has been attracted in financial circles to the comparatively high price at which Hayward's $180,000 issue of 6 per cent school bonds sold yesterday to H. H. Collins and Sons, and the National City Company. The joint bid was on a 5 1/2 per cent basis, the sale carrying a premium of $200,000. The price of the $180,000 issue of bonds was $180,000.

NEW YORK EXCHANGE.

The New York Sun's financial review today said:

Today's session was the lightest day's business this year and the heaviest since the end of 1920. Steel stopped heavy and the market was with most of the industrial list. The railroads had presented the heaviest effort up to this time, but they, too, were relatively active and for the most part steady to firm.

PROBE OF FATAL ROW AT PICNIC ORDERED BY U. S.

Autopsy of Berkeley Victim Shows Man Died From
.32 Calibre Shot.

Prohibition Director F. F. Mitchell has ordered an official investigation of the fracas which attended the bootlegging raid at the Rebel Cork picnic in Shattuck Park Sunday.

Following the death yesterday of Charles McGauley, Berkeley mechanic.

Arrests are unlikely, it was stated by the authorities today.

A stray bullet from the revolver of Earl Adams, Alameda county deputy without pay, caused the death of McGauley, according to the autopsy.

The autopsy disclosed that the bullet penetrated the man's stomach, one kidney and liver, and lodged in the backbone. It was not until five hours after the injury that McGauley discovered he was wounded. Had he gone to the hospital immediately after the shooting, physicians say his life might have been saved.

KIDNAP EXPLAINS.
Yesterday's autopsy was held in order to discover from which of the two guns the shot was fired that ended McGauley's life. According to Klose, his weapon was knocked from his hand in the melee which followed the raiding of the picnic grounds by prohibition officers, the bullet striking McGauley, a bystander.

Precedent Is Set In Judgment Decision

Herbert D. Wise, justice of the peace of Berkeley, today overruled a demurrer filed by John Wentz, attorney for William Skeen of Vallejo, to the effect that Skeen was out of the jurisdiction of the Oakland court and as a result was not liable to the $257 judgment awarded John H. Broadway in 1916. Judge Wise ordered Skeen to pay the amount immediately for judgment on a broken contract.

In 1916, suing for judgment on a broken contract, Broadway was awarded $257 by Judge Wise. Skeen then moved to Vallejo, where he instituted proceedings through the Vallejo courts claiming that he was out of jurisdiction of the Oakland court. Overruling of the demurrer is said by attorneys to be a new point in the state statutes that has never come before the courts before.

"Lodger" in Factory Held In City Jail

The shouting of a man riding past on a street car on San Pablo avenue early this morning appraised Patrolman M. M. Joyce that some one was breaking into the mattress factory at 332 Twenty-seventh street, and started a chase which only ended when Ralph Clark of 2225 Clark street was found hidden between two mattresses, giving a silent imitation of a sandwich.

Joyce ascertained that some one had entered the building and summoned Inspectors J. M. Enright and E. J. O'Donnell. The man had entered the factory by smashing a window and O'Donnell went in the same way, taking Enright with him. The inspectors discovered Clark without coat, trousers or shoes.

"What's the idea?" asked the inspectors.

Clark appeared half asleep or dazed. "I work here," he finally answered.

"We're working here, too," said the inspectors, "but we've got what we wanted."

Clark is held at the city prison for investigation.

MAN IS KILLED; WOMAN IS BADLY HURT IN CRASHES

SAN JOSE, Aug. 9.—One was killed and one was seriously injured here today in two traffic accidents.

John Correria, a rancher, was instantly killed when the buggy in which he was driving was struck by an automobile driven by Henry F. Blohm of Avon, about three miles north of San Jose, at the junction of the Oakland highway and Trimble road. Correria leaves a widow and five children.

Correria was thrown out of his buggy and landed on his head, fracturing his skull. The buggy was unharmed, but the horse had to be shot.

Mrs. A. G. Wilson of Hollister had a head-on collision with an automobile driven by George Griswold, 55 Fox avenue, San Jose, on the state highway about a mile south of San Jose. She received a possible fracture of the skull, internal injuries and numerous cuts and bruises. She is in a critical condition at the O'Connor sanitarium.

Rail Board To Hear Redwood Rate Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—A group of four cases brought by the lumber firms from Pittsburg to southern California points are as high as from Arizona and points in extreme northern California, where, in some instances, the haul is twice as great. It is claimed that both rail carriers refused to establish joint rates with the Temco company, while it is alleged, they do with other water carriers for greater distances.

SCHOOL CHIEFS DISAPPROVE OF CUT IN BUDGET

Unless County Comes To Rescue Curtailed Teaching
Year Is Ahead, They Say.

Given $34,000 in the city budget when they were led to expect $250,000, members of the board of education, with one exception, express disapproval of the action of the council.

The directors assert that the schools cannot run the requisite 200 school days unless all the equipment of the schools be sacrificed. Some of the directors say they doubt if the schools can run 200 days under any circumstances. It is admitted, however, that these statements apply in case that state and county appropriations are no more than last year. If the state and county give enough to make up for the city deficit, say the educators, all may yet be well.

CAMPBELL SATISFIED.

Director Fred Campbell, the lone member who thinks the $34,000 is ample, says "they try to discredit this board" in curtailing its money, but believes it will pull through, and

"We'll get by with it," says Campbell. "We don't care. The schools will run 200 days. We can get rid of the superfluous high-priced executive department and save the difference."

The other members of the board are not so optimistic. The following are their attitudes, as expressed after last evening's board meeting: Director Daryl Short—"We can't do it and maintain the efficiency of the schools. It means a curtailment of equipment. The teachers' salaries are fixed. The cuts, then, must come from equipment and buildings. It means a lowering of all our standards of education."

OTHER OPINIONS.

Director George Hatch—"It looks like we'll have to close schools earlier."

Director George Ormsby—"It's too bad. I don't know what we can do. We now have the job of trying to keep the schools open."

Director J. F. Chandler—"It can't be done."

President Harry Boyle—"We've got to keep going somehow. No matter what happens. This board is on record for a 200-day school year, and we've got to make good at all hazards."

The school officials today started to find where cuts can be made in expenses.

Baby Deaths Cut in Two In 10 Years

Figures on infant mortality in Oakland for the past ten years, compiled by City Milk Inspector C. C. Wing, show what he terms a "commendable improvement in the saving of baby lives." The figures show that in this time the death rate has decreased by half and has gone down steadily year by year, with but two exceptions.

In 1918, the influenza year, the rate went up and in 1920 it went up again. The 1918 increase is understood, but Wing says nobody yet knows why it should have risen in 1920.

The following is the table of Oakland's progress in conserving infant lives:

SPEED RECORD

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 9.—Two days in the Alameda county jail must dim the laurels of Clark Rogers, 163 Alhambra terrace, San Francisco, holder of the speed record of twelve hours and fifty minutes by automobile from Oakland to the Yosemite Valley, arrested after being charged with speeding.

Director W. J. Gannon imposed sentence today.

Rogers committed the offense on the return trip, hitting San Leandro at the rate of forty-nine miles an hour, according to Officer Brandon.

The steamship Amalthus, the last of four sister ships constructed for the Anglo-Saxon Petroleum Company, Ltd., by the Union Construction company, will be launched at 5 o'clock on Thursday, August 11, at the shipbuilding company's plant on the western waterfront.

The Amalthus is designed to carry 3400 deadweight tons and will have a speed of 11 1/2 knots an hour.

Mrs. J. C. van Eck will act as sponsor.

HARDING NAMES "MRS. ANDERSON" U. S. RECEIVER

Oakland Woman's Nomination Is Sent To Senate; Confirmation Predicted.

The nomination of Mrs. Hattie Jewell Anderson of Oakland as receiver of public moneys for the San Francisco district was sent to Congress today by President Warren G. Harding, according to despatches from Washington.

Appointment of the Oakland woman to the position has been predicted for several months. A short time ago word came that the nomination would be sent to Congress this week and Mrs. Anderson was given to understand that no obstacle stood in the way save the formalities.

Mrs. Anderson was one of the party of "California Pilgrims" who visited Marion to confer with Harding on his front porch in the days of the campaign. Later she toured the East speaking for him and at the time of the inauguration she was a guest of Mrs. Harding at Washington. While several others have been mentioned as aspirants for the place of receiver of moneys, those who knew Mrs. Anderson's qualifications and of her friendship for Mrs. Harding were certain that she would be the only one considered. A former secretary to Senator Hiram Johnson and Miss Esther Tujano were among those who were named as possibilities.

Mrs. Anderson is in the registrar's office at the Hall of Records, where she holds a position she will resign for the federal place. With her name President Harding sent those of John Powell, of Tempe, Ariz., for registrar of land offices at Phoenix; Ivan G. Bishop, of Vancouver, for the vacancy at that city, and Elgie K. Pruitt to be registrar at Waterville, Wash.

Gangster Carey Is Taken To San Quentin

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—James Carey, one of the five convicted Howard street gangsters, was taken to San Quentin penitentiary today to begin serving a term calling for a maximum of 50 years.

Carey is the fourth member of the gang to go to San Quentin. K. O. Kruvsky, Spud Murphy and Allan McDonald were taken there immediately after their conviction.

Thomas Brady, facing a fourteen-year term, is the only other member of the gang still in the county jail. All five were convicted for alleged attacks on Jessie Montgomery and Jean Stanley last Thanksgiving eve.
